Girl, 2½, Run Over By Mother's Auto, Dies

Sandra Jean Gozia Is Victim; Third Recent Tragedy In Family

Sandra Jean Gozia, two-and-one half-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mabel Elizabeth Gozia, 30, of 24 Bradley lane, died at 11:40 a.m. yesterday of injuries sustained when she was run over Tuesday afternoon by an auto driven by her mother.

She was taken to the hospital at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday after the accident occurred in front of her home. Her grandfather, C. H. Roseman, with whom the Gozia family lived, told the Press-Record the child had left the auto without her mother knowing it. As the small girl went in front of the car, the left front wheel rolled diagonally over her body.

Mrs. Gozia had borrowed the auto to go to Stallings school to get her son, Claude, a sixth grader, who had injured his left wrist while highjumping.

There were several other children in the car. Mr. Roseman said he had driven the car home for his daughter to use, and she, with the children, drove him back to his office before they returned home. Mrs. Gozia apparently was to drive the other children home.

Mother Treated For Shock

Emergency surgery was performed on the victim Tuesday night. The mother was hospitalized and treated for shock.

Tragedy had befallen the family previously. The father of the girl, Donald Gozia, 30, was murdered on the outskirts of Madison on March 20, 1962. He was found shot in the cab of his truck.

Her twin brother died shortly after birth. The two were born two months prematurely. The grandmother, Mrs. Roseman, was hospitalized recently following heart attacks.

The girl was born in Granite City. In addition to her mother and maternal grandparents, she is survived by a brother, Claude Henry Gozia; a sister, Penny Sue Gozia; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry

Youth Loses Driving Privilege For 90 Days

Driving privileges were taken away from a 17-year-old Granite City youth who was arrested Tuesday on a careless driving charge following a collision involving his auto and a St. Louis furniture store delivery truck.

Police Magistrate Gasparovic yesterday fined Billy Ross, 2261 Iowa stret, $100, but suspended $90 of the fine in lieu of the loss of driving privileges for 90 days.

Gasparovic said the youth had been fined recently on charges of speeding and operating a motor vehicle with an improper muffler.

Police said the youth was driving east on St. Clair avenue and crashed into the rear of the eastbound furniture truck which had stopped for a school sign and was pulling away.

Exterior Painting Bids Sought For Kirkpatrick Units

Extensive painting work at the Granite City Housing Authority's 451-unit Kirkpatrick Homes housing project was planned during a monthly meeting of the authority's board of directors Tuesday night.

Complete exterior painting, including window and door frames, will be carried out at 150 apartments. Only the fascia boards, to which guttering is attached, will be painted at the other 301 units. The contract also will include exterior painting at the management-maintenance building.

A deadline of Wednesday, June 5, was set for bids on the painting and on furnishing of propane gas for Kirkpatrick apartments in 1963-64.

Anchorage Not Ready

The Anchorage apartments for the elderly have not yet been completed and turned over to the authority, it was noted. The original target date was passed about 45 days ago, and no new completion date has been given by the contractor.

As soon as the new units are ready for use, insurance responsibility for them will be transferred from the contractor to the housing authority. An initial group of persons eligible to occupy some of the apartments has been alerted to move in, pending the completion, Executive Secretary David Morgan reported.

Chairman Walter Pfaff presided. Other commissioners present were Ernest Veihl jr., Clarence Hoy, Fred Fahnster and Dr. Claude Hiles.

78-Bed Nursing Home In GC Is Planned

Would Be Along West Pontoon; Annexation, Zone Change Sought

Plans for a brick, one-story nursing home with 78 rooms and other facilities were announced today by Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Byers and Charles Goff, Madison florist and insurance agent.

Dr. Byers said development of the home, which would be built on the north side of West Pontoon road, on a 5½-acre tract east of the Herbert Bischoff farm, hinges on a zoning change request to be heard today by the City Plan Commission. Action by the city council on annexing the tract to the city also would be needed.

The structure, being designed in colonial style by Granite City Architect Virgil Dulgeroff, would be completely air-conditioned and would contain rooms for 78 persons, dining hall and kitchen, recreation facilities, an infirmary and quarters for beauty and barber shops.

Needed In Community

Dr. Byers pointed out the need for a nursing home in the Quad-Cities and stressed that while he is a physician, his role in its operation would be as supervisory and administrative.

"Development of the nursing home depends on the action of the plan commission this afternoon and the annexion by the city council," Dr. Byers said. An R-5 residential classification is sought for the area now zoned R-3.

The site for the 24,000 square foot structure has been inspected by the state authorities who have approved the location.

Jewelry Valued At $1500 Stolen By House Burglars

Jewelry valued at over $1500 was stolen Tuesday night from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Twellman, 105 Riviera drive.

Police said the house was ransacked in an apparent search for money, and the thieves removed camera equipment from a bedroom closet but left it on a bed, preferring to steal only jewelry.

Twellman, an employee at an East St. Louis hotel, identified jewelry boxes which had been thrown out of an auto in the 2830 block alley between Madison and Grand avenues.

Listed as missing were two diamond rings valued at $500 each, a man's blue sapphire ring worth $200, three watches with a total value of $275 and miscellaneous jewelry — cuff links and tie pins worth $50.

Entrance was gained by forcing an overhead garage door leading from the garage to the kitchen. The break-in was discovered about 2 a.m. when the Twellmans returned home.

Quad-Cities' Birthrate For April Is Lowest In Decade

The Quad-Cities' birthrate continued its downward trend in April when only 75 births were recorded by Granite City Clerk A. L. Stevens.

The birthrate, a drop from the 87 new babies arriving in March was the lowest in a decade.

Vital statistics show it was the lowest since the 68 births recorded in April 1953.

In the past 10 years the Quad-Cities have averaged 100 new babies a month. The average for 1963 is 88.

However, the Quad-Cities' increased deathrate remained at the higher level during April, when 45 deaths were recorded. This was a slight drop from the 49 in March and below the 46 recorded in February.

In 1962, the Quad-Cities averaged 33 deaths a month. This year's average is at 43.

For the first four months of the year, vital statistics show 352 births and 173 deaths occurring in the Quad-Cities. In the same period of 1962, there were 375 births and 141 deaths.

Veteran Venice Teacher Of 44 Years To Retire

Mrs. Jessie O'Day, veteran teacher in the Venice school system, will retire at the end of the current school term.

She submitted her resignation to the board of education, and it was accepted at a meeting Monday night. Mrs. O'Day has been in the school system for all but one of the 44 years she has taught. That year, she taught in a country school.

She currently teaches the fourth grade. Lester Salem, president of the board, fondly noted that he was in her class as a child.

Mrs. O'Day started teaching after attending college for two years. She subsequently earned her bachelor's degree.

Her long service will be formally recognized when she will be presented with a plaque during grade school graduation ceremonies May 23.

In her resignation, she indicated a desire to serve as a substitute teacher.

Band Director Resigns

The board also accepted the resignation of Irwin Ballard, band director for the Venice public schools. He has obtained a position as band director for a junior high school in Alton, where he resides.

He recommended that the summer band program be continued, and offered to remain for the summer.

A leave was granted to Mrs. Belle Schmidt, special education teacher, effective at the end of the school term. She plans to continue her studies in the special education field.

The board adopted a policy for pay assistance for teachers seeking a master's degree. It provides a total of $700, prorated after 12 quarter hours or eight semester hours have been completed.

The teacher must agree to return to the Venice school system and teach for at least a year after having received fi-

Hearing June 24 For Mitchell Park District

A hearing will be held at 10 a.m. June 24 in Madison county court at Edwardsville on petitions to create a Mitchell park district.

Petitions containing 123 signatures were filed Tuesday with County Judge Michael Kinney. The proposed district is being supported by the Mitchell Park and Athletic Association headed by Robert Bixler, president.

It would lie entirely within Chouteau township and would include 5625 acres or 8.8 square miles. Its west boundary would be the Chain of Rocks Canal, its southern limits would extend eastward to Highway 111. The petition said there is no incorporated territory within the proposed district.

The county judge is expected to call a special election following the hearing.

Bixler said plans are being made to develop a park, but a location has not been selected. Plans will be discussed at an association meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Mitchell school

Rabies Clinic Dates Pending

Nameoki Twp. Plans To Buy New Insect Fogging Machine

Preparations to purchase an insect fogging machine and for a rabies inoculations for dogs in Nameoki township were started Monday night by the town board of auditors.

Supervisor Harry Briggs said the township insect spray machine is several years old and is beyond repair. He is to obtain prices on fogging machines similar to those used in Granite City and report to the board at its May 20 meeting.

Briggs said he also is to arrange with a veterinarian to conduct the rabies inoculations and that the times and places of the annual program will be announced when arrangements are completed.

No Action On Vacancy

The board took no action to appoint a successor to Gener Rotter, former town auditor, who resigned last month to fill the two-year vacancy for the office of township tax collector. Briggs said the appointment probably will be made at the May 20 meeting.

Rotter, who was in attendance, said he plans to set up his stenographic force in the township headquarters to begin preliminary work for sending out 1962 tax bills. For the job he has employed Mrs. Ruth Morris, Mrs. Betty Zaruba and Mrs. Virginia Schreiber. The bills are expected to be ready late in June or early July.

Hearing Delayed

Town Atty. Nick Vasileff reported a hearing continuation to May 17 by the St. Clair county circuit court where the township has filed suit against the East Side Levee & Sanitary district.

The hearing is on dismissal motions filed by three railroads operating in the township that intervened.

The township is seeking to test the validity of the 1961 state law which became effective Dec. 31, 1962, prohibiting the levee district from issuing general obligation bonds without a referendum. The township wants the levee district to finance major portions of a proposed multi-million dollar sanitary sewer system, claiming its property owners have paid taxes to the district for years and have failed to receive benefits.

The railroads intervened in the suit in an effort to uphold the constitutionality of the law.

Community Emblem Design Contest Planned By C. Of C.

A contest for design of a community emblem for the Quad-Cities is being planned by the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

The proposal was submitted to the C. of C. board during the monthly dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Rose Bowl restaurant by William L. Harris, chairman of the Public Relations committee.

Harris was authorized to proceed with his four-point program to initiate the contest for the promotion of the Quad-Cities and to build more civic pride.

In addition, he plans to organize a speakers' bureau, develop a series of articles to feature the outstanding qualities of the community and an outdoor advertising program.

The purpose of the program is not only to acquaint Quad-Citians with the quality of the community, but also to attract new residents, businesses and industries.

Industrial Prospects

C. E. Townsend, chairman of the Industrial Development committee, reported his committee has several prospects for new industry and that the members are working to encourage existing industry to expand as needed. He pointed out that 85% of industrial expansion in the state is carried out on a localized basis by existing industry.

Eight new C. of C. members were added in the past month, including Holiday Inn, Ed. G. Reidelberger; Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Wilbert A. Trieb es; Dr. Melvin Freedman; Vision-Built Homes, Inc., Morris Roney; Stanley's Restaurant & Lounge, Stanley Barylske; Uncle Charlie's Drive-In, Charles Ferratto; Granite City Boat & Motor Co., Mrs. Pauline Seebold, and Venice Liquor Co., Samuel Rosch. The report was submitted by Carl Mathias, membership vice-chairman.

Development of waterways in the Quad-Cities is to be explored through a meeting being arranged by Carl Ranft, chairman of the Tri-Cities Regional Port Authority. Members of the Chicago Port Authority have indicated a willingness to meet here with Tri-City Port, C. of C. and St. Louis Seaway organization.

A series of four meetings is being planned for July 1 to Sept. 1 by Howard Kaseberg to develop a better understanding between businessmen, industrialists and farmers. Most of the 166 farmers in the area have endorsed the program, Kaseberg also announced he is beginning plans for the annual Business-Industry-Agriculture banquet in September.

Council Change Goes Smoothly --- Solons At Work

(Related story on page 28)

The transition from the old to the new council went smoothly Monday night in Granite City before an audience of over 100 persons. And then the new aldermen went to work.

In a brief ceremony, Mayor Davis called forward individually each of the retiring council members and presented them with certificates and keys to the city.

The old council met briefly for its final action of approving the minutes of the April 22 meeting and bills for the past two weeks.

Mayor Davis announced his committee appointments and called for reports from the new chairmen.

New Chairman Kept Busy

The new chairman of the Street and Alley committee, G. H. Sternberg, was "snowed under" with requests from virtually every ward. He worked feverishly to make notes of all the requests.

His committe was called upon to study the need for resurfacing 27th street at the park boulevard, to determine if a tract of property can be obtained from Granite City Steel Co. to begin the authorized improvement to a section of West 22nd street.

His committee was called upon traffic signs along Hall avenue between East 23rd street and Hodges avenue, where now there are none; to study a standing water problem in back yards along the alley of the 2300 block of Logan avenue near the plant of East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co.

The committee also was asked to determine if the abandoned right-of-way of Illinois Terminal Railroad Co. between Kirkpatrick Homes and East 27th street should be developed as an alley or closed to traffic.

Pollution Study Begins

Alderman Charles Moerlien, chairman of the Special Pollution Study committee, said his group is gathering data "and has a large amount of it to study.

"We are working diligently and expect to submit an early

Calls For Expansion Of Departments, Sewage Plant, City Pay Study

Expansion of several city departments — the legal, police and inspection departments — and formation of a new department to maintain city equipment were stressed by Mayor Davis in his 13-point program of progress for the city presented to the new city council Monday night.

While no mention of the availability of funds was made in the 2½-page outline, Mayor Davis said he planned to discuss the 1963-64 program and the new city budget at a meeting of council committee chairmen next Monday night.

The program was not read at the meeting. Copies were distributed to the council members for study. Several aldermen remarked that it covered a wide range of projects for the new fiscal year. All have been discussed previously.

Sewage Plant Heads List

Included were—sewage treatment, fluoridation (no recommendation), expansion of the legal department, meter maids and a canine corps for the police department, a program of urban renewal, a secretary and part-time help for an expanded inspection department.

Extensive sidewalk, curb and street construction and repair, establishment of a city equipment department, a uniform traffic code, a longevity study for city employees, an air pollution study, revision of the motor fuel tax street program and a new West Granite fire house and added equipment for the fire department.

There was no time at Monday night's meeting for comment on the mayor's proposals. Mayor Davis remarked it would take half an hour to read, and he preferred the aldermen to give the items study for a discussion at the next session.

"We'll take it up at the chairmen's meeting next week and then put it on the council floor the following week," he added. The only report on city finances was that preliminary data showed the city ended its fiscal year April 30 with a $26,508 general fund balance.

Text of Program

The text of his program follows:

"With a sincere desire that the forthcoming fiscal year, 1963-64, be a progressive one for the city of Granite City, I hereby submit to you the following suggestions:

"1. Sewerage Treatment. A great deal of controversy and honest differences of opinion have caused unwarranted delays in this city's compliance with anti-pollution directives. I have already appointed a new committee and urge that its investigations and recommendations be accelerated so that this council

GC Police Predict 86 Crashes In May

Granite City police are predicting there will be 86 traffic accidents in the city this month.

During April, there were 99 accidents with 53 injuries, which greatly exceeded the prediction of 82 for the month. A rainy weekend April 26-27-28 accounted for 20 of last month's crashes.

The prediction of 86 accidents this month is greater than the number occurring in May 1962, when 68 traffic mishaps were reported, in which there was one fatality and 15 injuries.

Increased business resulted in Biltmoor Moving Co. leasing this week an additional 30,000 square feet of storage space in the Granite City Industrial Center, formerly the Nesco plant.

Cerebral Palsy Drive Set For May 17, 18, 19

Mrs. Mary H. Wolf is supervising the United Cerebral Palsy fund campaign which is to be conducted May 17, 18 and 19 throughout the Quad-Cities with the aid of about 250 volunteers for house-to-house solicitation.

Mrs. Wolf, who said drive captains will be announced early next week, said a goal of $10,000 has been set for the Quad-Cities.

She explained that about every 53 minutes a child is born with cerebral palsy and is handicapped for life. It affects muscle control, hearing, speech or eyesight or a combination of them.

The campaign is being conducted nation wide, and funds are sought to provide treatment for afflicted youngsters and for training adults.

SCOUTING FAIR lucky ticket numbers are shown being placed in a safety deposit box at the First Granite City National Bank by E. R. Applegate, ticket sales manager for the May 31-June 1 event at the Granite City Army Depot; Mrs. Elmina Trachsel, vault custodian; and Eugene A. Coe, Boy Scout council executive. Prizes will go to the 20 scouts selling all tickets in each book named on the sealed list.

4000 Selling Tickets For Annual Scouting Fair Here

In a short time, the cry, "Let's go to the fair," will ring out all over the Cahokia Mound Council as over 100 Boy Scout units and 10,000 visitors turn out for the biggest show of scouting in action in 1963.

Scheduled for Friday, May 31, and Saturday, June 1 at the Granite City Army Depot, the scouting fair will be a huge assembly of scout booth displays, outdoor camping demonstrations and "everything that's part of the fun of scouting," according to Carl Mathias, service area manager for Illinois Power Co. and fair chairman.

Ticket sales in all five districts are off to a fast start, with 4000 scout salesmen on the job ringing doorbells. Ticket Sales Manager Ed Applegate, load promotion supervisor for Illinois Power, announced that brand new $5 bills will be offered as special prizes to each scout who sells one of the "lucky books" of tickets.

Twenty lucky book numbers were selected and have been placed in a sealed safety deposit box in the First Granite City National Bank. The box will be opened at fair time in the presence of top salesmen, and winners will be announced at closing ceremonies of the scouting fair on June 1, Applegate reports.

Many Other Awards

Besides these prizes, each scout salesman can earn a scouting fair neckerchief slide by selling ten or more tickets. The top salesman in the council will receive a transistor radio. A self-winding wrist watch will be given to the second-place winner, and a wool shirt to the third-place salesman.

Each top district salesman will receive a camp pack and hikemaster kit. Each top unit salesman will be awarded a scout flashlight.

At the fair, each unit will show off its specialty to visitors. Demonstrations in outdoor cooking, camping skills, pioneering, tower building, cub crafts, Indian dancing, physical fitness and merit badge skills will be featured in booth displays.

Circus Acts

Along with the displays, a new feature of the fair will be the "big top show," an action-packed spectacular with all the excitement of a circus. The show will be given twice on May 31 and four times on June 1, Lester Bickel, director, has announced.

Special acts will include cub scouts in a circus theme, troop meeting activities, an explorer "fit for tomorrow" and authentic Indian dances by scouts and explorers.

Each unit participating will receive a special award ribbon to be given by an awards committee under the leadership of Carl Baczenas, superintendent of public relations at Granite City Steel Co.

Mathias said that units selling tickets have an opportunity to receive a generous commission if they sell their quota of tickets and make their final ticket return by June 1. Returns can be made to the council office in Granite City or the ticket sales office at the fair.

Fair Committee

Assisting Mathias on the council fair committee are Nicholas Brink, plant manager of A. O. Smith Corp., vice-chairman; A. P. Steinhauser, works manager, American Steel Foundries, finance chairman; John Hundley, Granite City Steel Co., reception and guests; Barry Loman, vice-president, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, participation chairman; Col. John Ansley, commanding officer, Granite City Army Depot, physical arrangements chairman; Applegate, ticket sales manager; Bickel, assistant superintendent, Collinsville school district, special features chairman; Al Barnes III, assistant advertising manager, Tri-City Grocery Co., service chairman; Baczenas, awards chairman; Rollin Henn, council commissioner, fair manager; Russ Hoffman, owner, Highland News Leader, publicity; and G. H. Sternberg, council president.

District ticket sales managers are Charles Gavin, Quad-Cities; Charles Schmidt, Edwardsville; Charles Spilker, Collinsville; Richard Schmidt, Highland; and C. Douglas Hoiles, Greenville.

District participation chairmen are C. A. Schultz, Greenville; Robert Wildhaber, Highland; Joseph Ossola, Collinsville; John Webb, Edwardsville; and Leo Kalips, Quad-Cities.

Injury Suit To Be Filed Aganist GC

A notice of intent to file suit against the city of Granite City for injuries suffered in a fall on 19th street was filed with the city council Monday night by the attorney for Imogene Nicholls, 2716 Harding blvd.

The notice, which was referred to City Atty. George Filcoff jr., states she fell on the sidewalk on the north side of the street near the railroad tracks on the morning of last March 15.

In other miscellaneous action, the council adopted resolution confirming the recounts of April votes in the Third, Fifth and Seventh Wards for the election of Aldermen Clyde Boyd for the Third, Walter Nonn for the Fifth and G. H. Sternberg for the Seventh.

Change In IMRF Agent

Referred to the Finance committee was a resolution from the township office requesting approval for the designation of Mrs. Ada Kelly as the township agent for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund. Mrs. Kelly, who recently was employed as bookkeeper, replacing Mrs. JoAnn Taff, will handle IMRF accounts for the township. Mrs. Taff resigned to aid her parents with the operation of a restaurant.

J. B. Williams Construction Co. and Nelson Construction Co., contractors for the new post office building, were given permission to excavate in the 2300 block of Iowa street to connect a sewer from the new structure onto a 48-inch city line.

The council confirmed the promotion of Police Patrolman Francis McManus to the rank of sergeant, and authorized Tri-Cities American Legion Post 113 to hold its Memorial Poppy Days on May 24-25. The request was submitted by Mrs. Mildred Rees, president of the post auxiliary.

Man Knifed In Fight At Tavern Parking Lot

Madison police are investigating a fight at the Johnnie Lewis tavern parking lot, 320 Madison avenue, in which Otis Lee Meisenheimer, 31, of 1609 Third street, Madison, suffered knife wounds at 2:55 a.m. yesterday.

Initial reports indicated three men were seen in the parking lot. A short time later, Meisenheimer, who had been drinking earlier, re-entered the tavern. It was apparent he had been wounded, and the proprietor summoned police.

An ambulance took him to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for a cut on the right hand, a stab wound in the right side of the back and abrasions that had caused bleeding about the face.

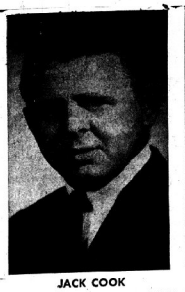

Suspects have been questioned, but no charges have been filed. Cause of the knifing has not been established.

Awards To Seven At 1st GC National Bank

Seven employees of the First Granite City National Bank have received awards from the American Institute of Banking of St. Louis, it was announced today by Harold R. Fischer, president of the bank.

Vernon L. Ernst of the auditing department was awarded the AIB graduate certificate.

Those receiving pre-standard certificates were Jack J. Cook, teller; Dennis R. Joyce of the bookkeeping department; Frank J. Fischer pointed out that the bank has been a staunch AIB supporter over a long period. He said employees of the bank are urged to attend AIB classes to further their knowledge of banking and to enable them to render better service to their customers.

MORE ABOUT
Veteran Venice Teacher

nancial aid while attending college classes.

School Accredited

The board was notified by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges that Venice high school has been accredited.

The same student accident insurance plan as at present was approved for the next school year. Rates are $2 for children through the sixth grade and $3 for grades seven through 12. The insurance is with the Page Insurance Agency of Mount Vernon, agent for Guaranteed Trust Life Insurance Co. of Chicago.

John O. Pier, superintendent of schools, said about one-third of the children avail themselves of the program, but that the number is increasing each year.

A letter was received from the Maynard Essenpreis family commending Robert Blattner, a teacher, for his work in rehabilitating their son, Michael, who is physically handicapped. The youth, who is in the eighth grade, is to be released from Children's Hospital, St. Louis, where he recently submitted to corrective surgery. Pier said he has continued his studies in the hospital and will be graduated with his class.

May Lease Buses

A proposal to lease school buses was discussed, but no decision was reached. One of the school buses is eight years old and will require replacement, Pier said. The Venice system owns three school buses and charters extra buses for athletic or special trips.

Pier, who said the Bi-State Transit System is not interested in school business, is attempting to obtain lease rates. He also suggested hiring women as school bus drivers.

The board transferred $1000 from the educational fund to the transportation fund, which is becoming depleted because of $100-a-month taxicab fare to East St. Louis for a child attending a special education class.

Pier said it will be necessary to borrow $70,000 from the working cash fund, which now contains $108,281, before the end of the fiscal year on June 30.

Harry E. Hartman, board attorney, said additional funds may become available next month if settlements are reached in tax objection cases of two railroads. The tax money under dispue is now held in escrow by the county treasurer.

Graduates' Banquet

Pier and Salem were invited to participate in a banquet for graduates of the Eagle Park Acres area at 4 p.m. May 26 at the Canaan of Galilee Baptist Church.

Members were authorized to attend a meeting of the southwest division of the Illinois Association of School Boards at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday at Augustine's restaurant, Belleville. Officers will be elected.

An attendance report for April showed 29 enrolled in the Lincoln kindergarten, 40 in the Venice kindergarden, 285 in Lincoln grade school, 293 in Venice grade school, 79 in Lincoln high school and 136 in Venice high school. The average attendance was 91.46%.

Bills approved included $11,349 from the educational fund, $1524 from the school lunch fund, $1226 from the building fund, $705 from the transportation fund and $571 from the Illinois municipal retirement fund.

Be careful what you say—it's always easier to float a rumor than to sink it.

Why U.S. Savings Bonds make such good gifts for your grandchildren

(cr children or nieces or nephews)

The U.S. Savings Bond you give to a loved one carries two important messages with it.

First it says that here's a gift that will grow in value and some day go toward college tuition or a home or keep on growing as a nest egg for the future.

Even more important, it says to a grandchild or niece: Here's a gift that makes you a saver. That helps you take your place among a nation of savers. That starts you off on the road to financial strength which is really the strength of your country.

And while your gift is growing, the dollars are working hard for freedom in a world where the enemies of freedom grow tougher and more determined every day.

Few other gifts accomplish as much as Savings Bonds. Why not start giving them today? (If you're a grandfather several times, you'll probably be most interested in the $25 variety which sells for $18.75 at any bank.)

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity
- You can get your money anytime
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed, or stolen.

Keep freedom in your future with

Madison County Farm Adviser

If weeds are cutting your soybean yields, use pre-emergence herbicides. They help to control grasses and weeds that the rotary hoe and cultivators often miss. Herbicides help most by killing early-starting weeds so that the soybeans can get a running start.

To do their best job, these herbicides need sufficient rainfall. When wet weather delays cultivation, they offer real insurance.

For best results apply the herbicides when planting, or not more than two or three days later. You can mount attachments right on the planter to apply sprays or granules directly behind the planter wheels.

Amiben, Randox, Alanap and Sodium PCP are recommended for pre-emergence use on soybeans.

Amiben has controled both annual grasses and broad-leaved weeds in soybeans better than most other herbicides. Soybeans seem to tolerate it well, although early stunting sometimes occurs.

Randox controls annual grasses, but not most broad-leaved weeds. Use it only on soils that are relatively high in clay and organic matter. Since it's quite soluble, it may leach too deep past the weed seed germination zone in lighter soils. Soybeans tolerate Randox well. But don't use its sister chemical, Randox-T, on soybeans, since the "T" part kills beans. Handle Randox carefully to avoid irritation.

Alanap effectively controls annual grasses and most broad-leaved weeds except smartweed. If heavy rains wash the chemical around the seed, it can cut soybean emergence. Don't use Alanap on sandy soils where washing is most likely to occur. Where smartweed presents a problem, use a mixture of Alanap and CIPC.

Sodium PCP controls broad-leaved weeds better than grasses. Soybeans do not tolerate it well, so injury sometimes results. Be sure to use sodium pentachlorophenate, which is a sodium salt of pentachlorophenol, and not pentachlorophenol itself. Handle PCP carefully, since either the dust or fine particles of spray can cause sneezing and irritate the skin. Sodium PCP does better on the low organic soils than on soils with more organic matter.

For more detailed information on currently recommended herbicide rates for weed control, ask for Circular 856, "Weed Control in Field Crops," at the farm adviser's office.

Many farmers and landowners have attended meetings just being completed by the county ASC committee to explain the wheat referendum, to be held May 21.

Wheat growers who have been producing less than 15 acres comprise about two-thirds of the eligible voters in the referendum.

In past years these small producers have not been eligible to vote and have not received price supports. Now that they are eligible, if these 1.2 million newly eligible voters turn out, their votes could decide the outcome of the wheat referendum.

But, the small producer must register at least seven days before the referendum by May 13. At that time he agrees to participate in the program if it passes. However, he is free to vote as he pleases, either yes or no. At least two-thirds of all voting must favor the program in order to put it in effect.

Livestock farmers may get copies of the 1963 circulars on beef cattle and hog management and feeding at the farm adviser's office. These circulars, revised annually, and containing the latest recommendations of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, have been very popular with cattle and hog farmers. Let us know if you want either or both.

Taking termite control measures while your building is under construction is much easier than exterminating termites from a finished building.

The ten highest milk-producing herds in the Madison County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the last month of testing were owned by Normann Henke, Elmer Kienke, Leland Steiner, Vernon Warnecke, J. W. Autery, C. C. Becker & Son, Waldo Keilbach, Harold Baumann, Wm. Ambuehl, Rudy Kuttin and Wilbert Weis.

Improved feed efficiency alone may justify limited feeding of finishing swine. Tests show that limiting the feed intake of finishing swine by feeding 70 percent of full feed, or five pounds per head per day, has produced a 10% improvement in feed efficiency.

A new well drilling service is now available to residents of Madison and adjoining counties. Many people, especially builders of new rural and suburban homes, have had difficulty finding some one to dig wells. Last week the Hamel Well Drilling Co. started operations and is busy drilling wells. It is owned and operated by Klueter Bros. and Gust Bekemeyer.

The lack of soil moisture is becoming more serious. Rainfall since Jan. 1 is about four inches below normal county-wide and a lot of rain is needed to meet the needs of this year's crops. The subsoil is very dry.

Some corn has been planted, unusually early with the dry spring. Germination will be affected unless it rains soon.

The sudden drop in temperature from around 90 degrees to under 30 slowed the planting. A few commercial tomato fields had been planted about three weeks ahead of normal schedule and some of the plants were killed. Damage to early sweet corn was negligible. A few potatoes were nipped. Fruit apparently was not hurt. Some orchardists said a little thinning of the apples might be helpful, as most trees had bloomed very heavily. John Reynolds of Godfrey reported little or no damage to his peaches. Strawberries were frozen in some areas.

Albert Leizemann of Edwardsville has been building some ditches on his farm in Mooney creek bottoms in Ft. Russell township, using drag-line equipment he purchased last fall. It opens a large ditch in a short time. It is available for custom work on other farms where drainage is a problem.

Spring cankerworms have started to feed on elms and a few other deciduous trees. They are feeding on new leaf shoots. A spray of four pounds of lead arsenate per 100 gallons of water will control these pests.

Three Double Plays, Taylor's Homer Help GC Snap 5-Game Losing Streak

It required 34 days, but Granite City high school finally has its second baseball victory over Alton.

The Warriors and Redbirds played to a 7-7- tie on April 4, and the game was replayed in its entirety here yesterday with Granite City emerging with a 5-1 victory.

More importantly, yesterday's win snapped a five-game Warrior losing streak which extended back to April 25, and got Coach Joe Fedora's club off on the right foot in what is its busiest week on the diamond this spring.

Granite City-Madison Today

Granite City will attempt to halt Madison, which has won its last three starts, this afternoon in Madison and then will play a night game at Edwardsville Friday.

Second, third and fourth places in the Southwestern Conference's final baseball standings hinge on the outcome of the latter game. Edwardsville can tie East St. Louis for second with a victory; a GCHS win would see the Warriors and Tigers finish in a tie for third place.

On Saturday, the Warriors will tune up for IHSA district eliminations by playing Springfield Lanphier a doubleheader at Wilson Park, the first game to begin at 11 a.m.

The Warriors will act as hosts for one of 112 district tournaments next week, playing Roxana on Tuesday after Madison and SWC champion Collinsville have opened the tourney Monday afternoon. A Wednesday contest will determine the Roxana regional entry.

Taylor Homers

Yesterday, the Warriors outbobbled their visitors 5-3, but turned over three double plays against the hapless Redbirds, who were relegated to last place by losing their ninth game in 10 SWC starts. The Warriors are responsible for two of those setbacks.

Granite City got away to a quick 4-1 lead after two innings, scoring twice in the first frame on only one hit—Terry French's RBI single—and added two more in the second when Marty LeVault doubled and Al Taylor hit a long home run to right-center off relief pitcher Lennie Jacobs.

Taylor collected his third RBI of the game when he singled home LeVault in the sixth. The run was unearned after the Alton infield had committed a pair of errors.

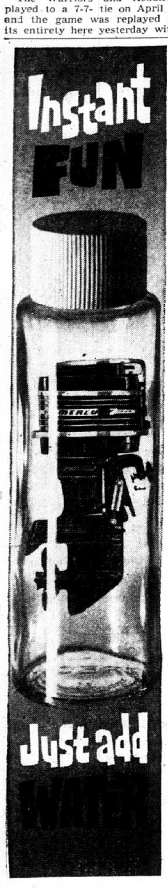

Pat Harris, who pitched five innings, was credited with the win, and got a good relief job from Terry Kofahl, who entered the game in the sixth after Alton had touched Harris for two solid singles.

Kofahl pitched out of trouble, getting one runner at third on a force-out and turning a ball hit back to the mound into an inning-ending double play.

Bob Jones started for Alton and was the losing pitcher. Fedora will send Perry Tayon against Madison today. Madison Coach Earl McClanahan will counter with freshman Tommy Williams, saving ace Mike Dillon for the important Midwestern Conference game with Cahokia tomorrow. Charlie Papp will be the starting pitcher against Edwardsville Friday night.

GCHS Banks On Hiles For Representation In State Track Meet; Alton Favored

Completely blanked last year, Granite City high school appears certain to pick up a few points tomorrow evening in East St. Louis at the IHSA district track and field meet.

They should come off the wide shoulders of weightman Joe Hiles, and Hiles most likely will qualify for the state track meet in both the discus and shot put if he can match earlier efforts.

But Coach Ross Rosenthal is uncertain today that Hiles will have any company on the trip to Champaign May 17. "Nobody else has met the state standards yet," he said, "and it will take our best efforts of the year if we are to get past the preliminaries and into the finals tomorrow."

Preliminaries at Parsons Field are scheduled at 4:30, with the finals at 6:30 p.m. First and second-place finishers in the finals qualify for the state meet, together with all other finishers who match or better the state meet standards listed elsewhere in this story.

Alton, of course, is again the meet favorite, with East St. Louis, Lincoln, Centralia, Edwardsville and Cahokia expected to battle for the next five spots.

Five records were set (all by Alton) and a sixth district mark tied last year, and the 15-school field could establish several more tomorrow.

3 Record-Setters Back

Most likely to fall is Paul Economides' shot put mark, and the Alton athlete should do it himself. Both Economides and Hiles are capable of nearing the discus record, and two other athletes will be back Friday to take a crack at marks they established last year.

Andy Johnson of Alton is back for a try at his own mark in the 180 lows and Alton's George Hunt will try to lower his own half mile record.

Other schools entered are Madison, Belleville, Wood River, Collinsville, Roxana, Mascoutah, Assumption and Jerseyville.

District records:

100 — Joe Budde (Belleville, 1945), B. B. Gater (Alton, 1960-61) and Tom Schwartztrauber (Belleville, 1962), 10.0.

220 — Willie Dean (E. St. Louis, 1955), 22.2.

11-4 Record For Warrior Tennis Team

Granite City high school wrapped up another successful tennis season under Coach Dick Harmon here yesterday by hanging a 5-0 loss on Roxana at the Wilson Park courts.

The Redmen's record this year included an 11-4 mark in dual meets and a second-place finish in the Southwestern Conference race. There is more to come, however.

Four players will represent GCHS in the state tennis finals at Champaign next weekend. The doubles combinations of Mike Barnes-Bill Logan and Rusty Toburen-Wayne Hancock won that right by finishing 1-2 in district play at Roxana.

A 3-2 winner over Roxana earlier in the season, Granite City won all five matches in straight sets on its home courts Wednesday. The results:

No. 1 singles—Mike Barnes (GC) defeated Sam Fleming, 6-2, 6-0; No. 2 singles—Bill Logan (GC) defeated Steve Smith, 6-1, 6-1; No. 3 singles—Rusty Toburen (GC) defeated Don Leamy, 6-1, 6-4.

YMCA Honors Soccer Teams And Players

Soccer will become a major national sport in this country within the lifetimes of youngsters just becoming interested in the game, Joe Carenza, director of the Khoury League soccer program in St. Louis and coach of the Washington University soccer team, told 235 YMCA soccer leaguers and parents during an awards program last night at the "Y".

Carenza and Harry Keough, currently coach of the St. Louis Kutis cup champions and a former World Cup and Olympic soccer player, made trophy and award presentations to league champions and outstanding players who participated in the YMCA's spring program for 18 teams in three age groups.

Mendoza Honored

A surprise award went to Ruben Mendoza, director of the YMCA program for boys here, in the form of an appreciation plaque inscribed: "To Ruben Mendoza, in appreciation for his dedicated effort in creating an interest in soccer among the youth of this community."

Mendoza, a Granite Cityan who played on two Olympic soccer teams himself, originated the soccer program here two years ago. Under his direction, it grew to involve 180 boys this spring.

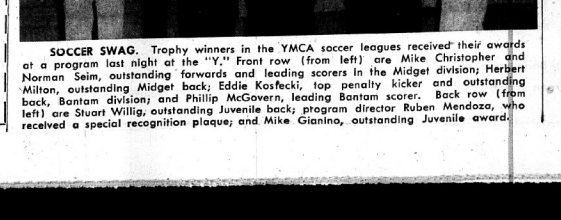

The program concluded with refreshments and the showing of films of the 1962 World Cup soccer competition.

Plays Friday At Cahokia

Madison Hands Highland 12-2 Loss, Sets Up MWC Baseball Showdown

Madison can't win the Midwestern Conference baseball title outright this year, but the Johnny-come lately Trojans will be after a tie tomorrow afternoon in Cahokia.

Three straight conference wins have given the Trojans an opportunity to prevent the Comanches from engineering a sweep of conference football, basketball and baseball activity.

Earl McClanahan's club swamped Highland Monday afternoon 12-2 to improve its MWC mark to 7-2. Cahokia is 8-1, and the Friday date is the final conference game for both teams.

Cahokia has lost just one game all season, that to Madison in Madison May 1 by an 11-3 score, so the Comanches will be primed for tomorrow's encounter.

To Play Without Fisk

The same can be said for Madison, which will be playing without the services of regular shortstop and leading hitter Tal Fisk, injured in a home plate collision with Cahokia catcher Burton Bruce in the May 1 game.

There was no play on Fisk at the time, but Tal has made two trips to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of a damaged knee as the result of Bruce's blocking the plate, McClanahan said.

Later in that same inning on May 1, Bruce blocked the plate, again with no play on the Madison runner, and was ejected from the game by umpires.

"Our infield is shaky without him," McClanahan said, "and of course we'll miss his bat."

If the Trojans were a bit unsettled on the infield Monday, it did not show. They banged out 11 hits, including a pair of doubles and three triples in a game they had to win, since Cahokia was edging past Bethalto 4-3 the same afternoon.

Mike Dillon, who will pitch against Cahokia tomorrow, gave up single runs to the Bulldogs in the first and fourth, but both were unearned as the result of two of the three errors the Trojans committed in the game.

Trojans Use Long Ball

Madison came back with four in the second on John Onesky's triple, a double by Jim Cromer, singles by Dillon and Tom Lubak and Nick Poboda's long liner to right, which Neal Quitmeyer lost in the sun. The ball struck Quitmeyer in the face, necessitating his removal from the game, and was ruled a triple good for two runs.

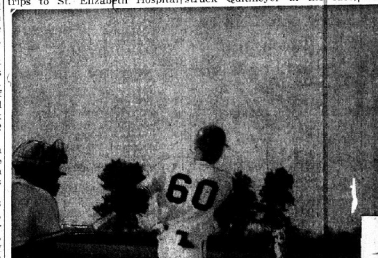

Catcher Sam Dymas singled to open a five-run Madison third. Onesky got his second triple in two at-bats to drive in the first run. Cromer reached on an infield error and losing pitcher Paul Schlechte walked Gary Burns to load the bases.

Highland catcher Chuck Beichel then threw badly in an attempt to pick off Burns, and two runs crossed the plate. Dillon drove in another run with a ground out, Lubak got his second hit and Poboda doubled Lubak home. Mike Yann relieved Schlechte and retired the side.

Yann worked perfect fourth and fifth innings, but Madison ended the game on the 10-run lead rule with nobody out in the sixth. Poboda tripled for his third extra-base hit of the afternoon after Lubak had walked.

Gary Skinner drew a walk, and then he and Poboda engineered a double steal for another run. Skinner moved to third on Dymas' ground out and eliminated a long afternoon for the visiting Bulldogs by stealing home.

GCHS Edges Edwardsville Again 3-2, Sews Up Second In SWC Tennis Race

Granite City's second 3-2 victory this season over Edwardsville high school's tennis club Monday gave the Warriors firm possession of second place in the final Southwestern Conference standings.

Coach Dick Harmon's state-bound squad finished with a 6-2 record, its only two losses coming at the hands of SWC champion Belleville, both by decisive 5-0 scores.

Beginner Chess Class

The first session in a new beginner chess class will be held at 7 p.m. next Wednesday at the YMCA. Gerald Gushleff is the instructor. The class is offered without charge and is open to persons 13 years of age and over.

Unable to turn back Edwardsville's doubles combinations in either of the schools' two meetings this spring, the Warriors decided the final outcome Monday by sweeping through all three singles engagements in straight sets.

Oddly it is four doubles players who will represent GCHS in the state finals at Champaign May 17-18; however, two of them, Bill Logan and Mike Barnes, play in the No. 1 and 2 singles slots in dual matches.

Logan and Barnes won the district doubles title, defeating darkhorses and teammates Rusty Toburen and Wayne Hancock in the finals. All four qualified for the state tourney, but Toburen and Hancock were defeated in Edwardsville Monday.

The match results:

No. 1 singles—Mike Barnes (GC) defeated Richard Helm 6-1, 6-4; No. 2 singles—Bill Logan (GC) defeated Ken Albrecht 6-2, 8-6; No. 3 singles—Neal Wolf (GC) defeated Cliff Menzie 6-1, 6-3.

No. 1 doubles—Jess Wolford and Ted Neubauer (E) defeated Rusty Toburen and Wayne Hancock 6-0, 6-4; No. 2 doubles—Steve Mihelic and Tom Puhse (E) defeated Bob Lancaster and Dennis Zerlan 6-2, 8-6.

Chiefs Nip Cahokia Baseballers, 2-1

Tom Stitch picked up the pitching victory in relief of Mick Shambro, who led 1-0 when he was removed for a pinchhitter. Prather scored its first run in the third on a bunt, sacrifice and base hit. It was the Chief's second win of the season over Cahokia.

First United Presbyterian Church, 22nd street and Delmar avenue, was the scene Tuesday of the annual guest day luncheon and program of the United Presbyterian Women's Association.

The dining room was abloom with spring flowers and the luncheon tables were adorned with arrangements of iris, peonies, wygelia, and other blossoms. Mrs. Frank Barclay served as general chairman and Mrs. E. F. Reiske headed the decorating committee.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Barclay, who welcomed the guests following the 12:30 luncheon and introduced Mrs. Henry George, who gave the devotion. The latter consisted of a history of the Mission Year Book of Prayer. Among the various missionaries and fraternal workers listed were those of Brazil and West Virginia.

Mrs. Harold Dorries sang "The Path of Prayer," by Dvorak, and "God Has Always Cared For Me" by G. Robinson Youse.

The speaker of the day, Mrs. Leven Gray of West Presbyterian Church in St. Louis, who was introduced by the chairman, told of her recent visit to the Middle East.

She described her experiences there and displayed articles symbolic of the various cultures of the countries visited. To give emphasis to her talk she displayed slides of the countrysides of Lebanon and Israel and the modern buildings and homes.

She was assisted by Mrs. Paul Justus, who also has traveled extensively in those countries.

The meeting closed with prayer.

SIU String Quartet To Perform At Alton

Southern Illinois University's string quartet from the Carbondale campus will present a recital at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the SWIU auditorium at the Alton residence center.

Composed of violinists Warren Van Bronkhorst, John Wharton and Thomas Hall, and cellist Arthur Hunkins, the quartet will feature works of Mozart, Bartok and Beethoven.

Van Bronkhorst is conductor of the University Orchestra and the Southern Illinois Symphony and former concertmaster of the Honolulu Symphony. Hall came to SIU last year from Chattanooga where he was first violinist and assistant conductor of the Chattanooga Symphony.

Hunkins is presently completing work for his doctorate in composition and the University of Michigan, and was cellist of the resident quartet at the American Conservatory at Fontainbleau, France, during the summers of 1957 and 1958. Tomorrow's concert is open to the public without charge.

MORE ABOUT

Davis Presents Program

may submit a proposal to its citizens in the very near future.

"2. Fluoridation. Since it is my opinion that the council wanted to wait on several matters for the new group to decide, I feel that the question of fluoridation, is a major issue. With this trend of thought, I am hoping that the Ordinance committee will bring in an ordinance on whether or not we should adopt the fluoridation program.

"3. Legal Department. Surrounding communities which are less populous have seen the need and desirability of maintaining adequate legal consultants. Granite City, one of the largest cities in Madison county, with the ever increasing complexities of state, federal and administrative rules and laws, feels the need for more legal counsel.

"One legal adviser cannot properly and adequately represent a city of this size. We have two choices. First, hire a corporation attorney who will assist our present city attorney. Second, set up in the budget the amount of $15,000 that will be used at the discretion of the city attorney on matters that the council feels should be expedited, such as misdemeanors in the magistrate's court, condemnation proceedings, and other extra legal work. I would recommend the second procedure for I believe that it would be more economical.

"Police Department. Modernization of the facilities of the police department should continue. During the past year a partial change was completed in the remodeling of the chief's office and records room. The hazards of conveying prisoners from cells across an open public area to interrogating, line up, fingerprinting, and photographing rooms still exist. I strongly recommend that we close off the entire lower floor so as to house only police personnel and the business of that department. I hope that the Police committee and City Hall committee can come to an early conclusion on this matter.

"The council should further consider the advisability of replacing police officers on parking meters with special lay personnel in the form of meter men or meter-maids, thereby releasing police officers for other police functions. Further consideration should be given to the replacement of motorcycles with squad cars, so that cruising and surveillance can be had over a 24-hour period rather than the limited day light patrol that the motorcycles now furnish. Finally, consideration for a canine corps, which is the use of dogs properly trained in police work, is receiving serious study by our neighboring communities. I feel that Granite City should be a leader rather than a follower in this regard.

"5. Urban Renewal. The financial aid that is available to municipalities from federal and state agencies is becoming more and more dependent upon what each individual community does to help itself. In this regard, federal and state agencies are requiring that certain minimum standards be met. To be ready for any consideration we must up-date our Building, Plumbing, Electrical, and Zoning Codes. These codes should have strong enforcement provisions which again will put a heavy load on our legal department.

"6. Department of Inspection. We should utilize the already present city inspector and building inspector and supplement them with part-time or full time plumbing and electrical inspectors. There should be a full-time secretary hired to keep complete records on all inspections.

"7. Streets and sidewalks. Extensive sidewalk, curb, and street construction and repair should be considered. This program not only would increase valuation of property but would serve a double purpose in the reduction of claims against the city in the nature of falls and legal claims being instituted.

"8. Maintenance Department. The establishment of a maintenance department for all city-owned equipment and vehicles is necessary. The rising costs of materials and repairs to city owned equipment and vehicles warrant the hiring of our own maintenance personnel. This service will be available when needed rather than run the risk of private repairmen being committed to other work at the time needed.

"9. Uniform Traffic Code. I have met with school officials and heads of PTA's in order that we might arrive at a final conclusion pertaining to the new law about school stop signs and crossings. We hope to have a statement before this council before the passing of our budget.

"10. Longevity study. The cost of living has outstripped the revenue that can be derived from taxation. The practice of across the board raises for city employees has reached the saturation point. Therefore, in an effort to combat the rising cost of living and to regard experience over inexperience, I would like to see the Personnel committee make a complete study of a good longevity program.

"11. Air Pollution. I recommend that a study and affirmative recommendation be made regarding the increasing menace of air pollution, tempered, however, with the constant recognition that we are in an industrial community, and are always seeking new industry for the growth and wealth of this area.

"12. Motor Fuel Money. I would like to see a revamping of projects set up with Motor Fuel Tax money. I believe that priority should be given to those projects that serve most of the people. I am in favor of putting Johnson road and the extension of State street to Fehling road first on the priority list.

"13. Fire Department. It is my sincere hope that the Fire and Water committee will set up in the budget enough money for a new fire station to be located in West Granite. Also, during the fiscal year plans and thoughts for a new station in the Nameoki area should be ready. It has always been my desire to see the city buy a Snorkel for the fire department. This piece of fire fighting equipment is becoming a must for a well equipped fire department. I hope that the committee will have, at a future date, the necessary explanation that will convince this council to purchase one.

"I realize the shortness of time. Nevertheless, I urge you to give force and meaning to this program, so that it may be encompassed in the forthcoming budget. Respectfully yours, Leonard R. Davis."

Assignments Announced For Rotary Convention

President Alex Schenhoffer, Leo Schermer and Fred Schmidt are to serve on the hospitality committee during the opening day of the Rotary International convention June 9 in St. Louis, it was announced during a weekly luncheon of the Madison Rotary club yesterday. Frank Fijan will be a sergeant-at-arms.

Oscar Albert, who spends each winter in St. Petersburg, Fla., told the club of new entertainment, scenic and commercial attractions in St. Petersburg and Sarasota.

The club decided to install green-painted metal trash containers at five Madison playgrounds as well as at 12 business intersections.

The Rotarians were asked to aid in housing 85 to 100 members of the Beloit, Wis., boys choir, which will sing June 11 at the First Presbyterian Church in Granite City, and the following day at the Rotary convention. Boys in the 10-to-13 age range are to spend the night of June 11 at local homes and are to be fed an evening meal and breakfast.

SENIOR SCOUTS PLAN SUPPER, CAMPOUT

Senior Girl Scout Troop 224, sponsored by the Nameoki Presbyterian Church, held a regular meeting Tuesday evening at the church. The meeting was opened with the scouts giving the pledge of allegiance, followed by a business session.

Main topic for discussion was a chili supper planned for May 28. It is to be held at Nameoki school from 5 to 7 p.m.

Tentative plans were made for a campout to be held in July. Final arrangements will be made at a later meeting.

Debbie Slay gave a report on a Senior Scout conference held in Edwardsville during April, which she had attended. The troop elected two scouts, Barbara Barton and Debby Slay, to represent it for the next year at the senior conference.

Two new members welcomed into the troop were Kathy McDonald and Deanna Harris.

Spring Metroplex Assembly

Security, Training Are Teenagers' Basic Needs

The basic need of teenagers today is the security and training by their family.

This was the major conclusion of panelists and participants in the public forum on youth problems held Monday night at the YMCA as the wind-up of the Spring Metroplex Assembly, with the theme "Youth — the Years Between."

Sponsored by the Tri-Cities Area United Fund, the forum followed a series of television and discussion programs presented on Monday nights on educational television Channel 9 produced by Washington University's Civic Education Center.

Dr. Raymond E. Troyer of Granite City, assistant professor of psychology at Southwestern Illinois University, moderated the series of meetings. He was assisted at the final public forum by six panelists from various fields concerned with problems faced by teenagers.

The Rev. Lawrence Mattingly, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church, was the first to point out the importance of the family in teaching moral values. Rev. Mattingly stated that, while the church is the paramount agency to accomplish this, families must initiate the exposure of their children to the teachings available.

Development To Maturity

James M. Willis, psychiatric social worker with the Madison county mental health clinic, stressed the development of an individual to maturity does not stop at age 21, but continues through life, and that personality is affected strongly by the environment in which a youngster is raised. He also stressed the family as the most important force in environment.

The school must coach the child in assuming responsibilities, leading to teenagers accepting larger tasks in the maturing process, according to Mrs. Frances Statton, dean of girls at Granite City high school.

Mrs. Statton stressed the guidance program offered by the high school, designed to give teenagers self confidence through the correct choice of a vocation or future career to fit their capabilities.

E. D. Kincaid, personnel manager of Union Starch & Refining Co., spoke from the employer's viewpoint. He deplored the current emphasis on providing employment for untrained teenagers. He indicated possible encouragement of school drop-outs when efforts should concentrate on keeping youth in school to prepare them better for competition for jobs.

Marginal Employment

Kincaid stressed that while some drop-outs may find marginal employment which is adequate for a few years, as they marry and raise children they tend to join the relief rolls when the only jobs they can hold are inadequate.

Successful development of construction moral and ethical values underlies achievement of the other tasks involved in reaching maturity, according to the Rev. Paul Evans, pastor of the First Assembly of God.

Young people can reach economic independence through learning to use their time, talents and other attributes of personality in useful ways, in addition to reaching dollars and cents independence, Rev. Evans said.

James J. Reidelberger court services director, family court of Madison county, pointed out the county is sadly deficient in services for children who come under the care of the family court.

Detention Home

A county detention home is of primary importance, he said, and listed other services lacking to be a family counseling agency, including more foster homes and a treatment center for emotionally disturbed children.

The fact that the fifth largest county in Illinois has no facilities for the proper detention of juvenile delinquents is disgraceful, Reidelberger said.

Dr. Troyer summed up the value of the Metroplex Assembly series in spot-lighting problems of "growing-up" and bringing them into focus.

He indicated the differing points of view had been helpful in clarifying issues involved and bringing out the general agreement on directions our society should take in providing services to enable our youth to become responsible, mature adults.

Fisherman's Tale For Loss Of Badge

A fisherman's tale on how he lost his alderman badge by retiring Third Ward Counell Member Rufus LeMaster brought out chuckles from the more than 100 persons in the audience Monday night.

In a brief retirement ceremony during the meeting, First Ward Alderman Estill Schmittou gave his badge to Charles W. Moerlien, remarking it was wearing thin from the 20 years he carried it.

LeMaster, in relinquishing his chair to Clyde Boyd, remarked, "I can't give you my badge. I used it for a weight on a fishing line one time and lost it." He didn't explain if it had fallen off the line or had been gobbled by a fish.

Fire Damages Interior Of 1960 Auto; $250 Loss

Fire, apparently caused by a cigaret, did $250 damage to the back seat and headliner in a 1960 auto parked at 1911 Grand avenue about 10:10 p.m. Wednesday, Firemen said the auto belonged to an E. Adams at that address.

About 5:50 p.m. firemen extinguished a pile of lumber at 2215 Edna street, owned by Ben Riddle. No loss was reported.

MOTHER LIKES . . .

These "extras" we offer frequently. Yes, every day is Mother's Day at Tri-City Groc. Co.! We've always got a big bouquet of Bargains for Mother, PLUS those "EXTRAS" she likes so much . . . introduced from season to season. It might be a new dish pattern, sheets, or lamps, or something we've never sold before. Last week, Lawn Furniture returned again . . . after a big 1962 season.

What's the next surprise? Can't tell you now, but it will appear in this newspaper in a short time.

Groceries Are Coming Down

Now quit that, John! If you unload momma's shopping cart like this, at a Tri-City Groc. Co. supermarket, you are only hurting your own budget. We don't mind picking up after you (not much), but the more you buy from us, the more you save. After all, you don't want to be a litterbug and you might have a hard time explaining to the Mrs. that the cart had a large hole and the items merely fell out. We may be cheap, but we do occasionally repair our carts. Do yourself a favor, John, and start picking up that mess!

MECCA Meeting Monday

C. of C. representatives are to meet next Monday in a MECCA (Metro East Chamber of Commerce Association) session at Wood River to discuss the status of metropolitan air pollution surveys, the Bi-State Transit system and the proposed Madison-St. Clair County Plan Commission. Paul Lichtenberger heads MECCA.

M. Freeman Wolfe, C. of C. vice-president, reported on a trip to Washington, D. C., to attend a National C. of C. meeting last week. He, C. of C. President Chester Baker and Executive Secretary Harlan Dobry made the trip.

They heard top level talks by cabinet members, diplomats, Congressmen and government officials who stressed the need for businessmen to develop more interest in civic affairs as citizens and seek solutions to problems on local levels rather than call upon federal agencies.

President Baker reported a slide film with sound, entitled "Who Profits from Profits," is available at the C. of C. office.

Eye Care Urged While Watching Sun Eclipse

Notices are being distributed in schools advising students to exercise care for eye protection if they watch the partial eclipse of the sun expected July 20.

The notices were based on a release sent out by State Supt. of Public Instruction Ray Page, who stressed that children are "most susceptible to eye damage from burns" and adults eyes also can be harmed if they watch the eclipse directly or without filters.

Supt. Page emphasized that dark glasses or photographic negatives do not provide adequate eye protection. The damage occurs during any direct viewing.

Indirect viewing is the best procedure to watch an eclipse, or instructions for preparation of a simple sunscope can be secured from the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 220 South State street, Chicago, Supt. Page said.

4 Persons Hurt In Traffic Mishaps Here This Week

Four persons were hurt in three of 12 traffic accidents occurring this week in the Quad-Cities.

Viaduct Collision

Both drivers were injured in a collision Monday on the Broadway viaduct involving the rear and side of the northbound car of Larry Schmidt, 35, of 620 Lincoln avenue, Venice, and the front of the northbound auto of George A. Delashmit, 59, East St. Louis. Schmidt reported back and neck pains and Delashmit, whose car was towed to a garage, suffered a cut lip.

Hurt In Bridge Crash

Raymond Schmidt, 35, Florissant, Mo., sustained abrasions and a hematoma to the upper forehead at 7:50 a.m. Tuesday when the right front of his car collided with the left rear of an auto driven by Ralph Hall, 2617 West 24th street, on the McKinley Bridge. Both were traveling west at the eastern end of the bridge. Schmidt's auto was towed. He received treatment at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Injured Getting Out Of Auto

William Dale Jones, 32, of 711 Twenty-ninth place was injured about 5:15 p.m. Wednesday when he was alighting from his auto parked at 20th and Park avenues and the left door was struck by an auto making a U-turn.

Jones said the motorist stopped but then fled when Jones said he was going to call police. He said the hit-run auto was orange and a 1958 model.

Equipment Due At SWIU To Begin First Buildings

Equipment of the Fruin-Colnon Construction Co., St. Louis, is expected to arrive late this week or early next week at the Quad - City - Edwardsville campus of Southwestern Illinois University, it was reported today at the campus architect office.

The firm was awarded the general contract to build the first two buildings— the library and a combination classroom-faculty office building.

Engineers of the St. Louis Company are working with university architects on the building site prior to the arrival of earthmoving equipment.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held last Thursday, and it was announced then the two buildings should be ready for the college terms to start in September 1964.

Seek Ruling On Zoning-Mapping Fund Transfers

A legal opinion will be sought tomorrow from State's Attorney Dick H. Mudge jr. on how to finance proposed added costs of the county zoning, building and mapping office.

Fees are available, and County Board Finance Chairman Leslie Prehn—who opposed adoption of zoning—has asked for clarification of whether there can be an increase in appropriations in mid-year. Fund transfers within the departmental budget would be necessary.

The board's zoning committee yesterday asked the finance committee to approve raising the yearly salary of Building Official - Zoning Administrator Charles Erspamer from $7000 to $7600; to approve equipment and hiring of a clerk for the mapping department; and to provide $8 per diem pay of $15 a day and travel pay of 10 cents a mile for members of the Zoning Board of Appeals. Total amount of the requests was estimated at $7876.

Members of both committees agreed that the changes are in order and noted that revenue is more than adequate with income of the department running nearly double that of last year. In 1962, the building and mapping office turned $17,000 over to the county's general fund.

While the group agreed that Erspamer should receive a raise, set at $400 this year because zoning was not yet in effect at the start of 1963, it was noted that he has not submitted a raise request. A dollar a year was added to his previous salary at the time zoning duties began.

The requests are to be decided by the county board when it meets at 10 a.m. next Wednesday.

A zoning committee discussion yesterday brought out that Edwardsville does not have an approved zoning plan. City opposition to an unincorporated area property owner's request for a change from residential to commercial zoning is to be considered at a hearing May 10.

John Bargel, 85, of 1119 Reynolds street, Madison, died at 6:45 a.m. today at the Pleasant Rest Nursing Home, Collinsville. He was ill five years; had suffered a stroke and was paralyzed.

He was born in Anderson, S.C., lived in Madison 61 years and previously resided in Little Rock, Ark. Before retiring, he was a car repairman for the Nickel Plate Railroad where he was employed 35 years. He was a member of Railway Carmen's Lodge 547, Sacred Heart of Jesus Polish National Catholic Church and the Polish National Alliance, group 402.

His wife, Mrs. Viola Bargel, died last June 12, and a son, Joseph Michael Bargel, died last Sept. 8.

Survivors include two sons, Walter Bargel, Madison, and Edward Bargel, Granite City; three daughters, Miss Eleanor Bargel, Madison, and Mrs. Delbert (Frances) Lampher and Mrs. Joseph (Nellie) Kozeh, both of Granite City; a brother, Ben Bargel, Little Rock; 17 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

GC Woman Hurt In Crash Recuperating

Mrs. Mary Veres, 66, of 1724 Cedar street, is recuperating at St. Elizabeth Hospital from injuries suffered Sunday afternoon in a traffic collision in St. Louis in which she was thrown out of an auto.

Her husband, Joseph, who was driving the family auto said Mrs. Veres suffered multiple bruises to her left side. She was treated first at St. Louis City Hospital and transferred this week to the local hospital.

He said the crash was a two-auto collision on the Seventh street parkway.

Undergoing Treatment

Paul Mikulas, 2454 Hodges avenue, is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital while undergoing treatment. He entered the hospital early this week.

Neighbor Sues Maeras Over 3-Inch Fence Move

A suit to prevent Madison Mayor Stephen Maeras from moving his fence three inches has been filed by his neighbor, Mrs. Anna Kowalski, 815 Iowa street, in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

The dispute arose after Mayor Maeras had his property at 810 Iowa street surveyed and workmen began tearing down the fence.

In a second suit filed this week, Mrs. Kowalski, 80, seeks $30,000 from Maeras and his son, Jerry Maeras, who lives at 811 Iowa street.

The survey showed that he had an extra three inches, but Mrs. Kowalski claims that she has used the three-inch strip more than 30 years and the move would illegally alter the boundary line which existed as a matter of fact. She did not argue with the survey.

The suit claimed that moving the fence would lessen the value of her property and interfere with her right to "peaceful enjoyment." The mayor has ordered the work stopped until a court ruling is reached.

In the second suit, Mrs. Kowalski charged that threats were made against her during violent and heated arguments. The complaint said that the Maeras' threatened to call police and institute legal action against anyone who interfered with removal of the old fence. The complaint said armed police and armed men not in uniform had come into the area.

She claimed that she had built the fence more than 25 years ago to separate her property from that now occupied by the mayor. She asks $15,000 for shock, nervous tension and medical treatment which resulted from the incident; and another $15,000 in a second count which claims the Maeras' action disregarded the law and proper procedure and constituted intimidation, harassment and prevention of her right to property.

Mayor Maeras, who pointed out that he lives across the street and that his son, Jerry, is purchasing the property involved, said Mrs. Kowalski's fence is from four inches to two feet on his son's property. He said she was informed a year and a half ago that the younger Maeras wanted to erect a fence to keep his young daughter and dog in the yard.

The mayor said Mrs. Kowalski's garage extends four inches on the neighboring lot. He added that the dispute stems from his refusal to issue a liquor license to her son, Stanley Kowalski, or to her, for a tavern at 14th and State streets. He said answers will be filed to the complaints and he may be forced to file a counter suit.

Services were conducted at noon today at an Edwardsville funeral home. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery, Taylorville.

Lowell F. Perigo, 80, Succumbs In Hospital

Lowell Franklin Perigo, 80, of 1425 Seventh street, Madison, died at 10:25 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He was ill two years with cancer and was in the hospital 28 days.

Born in Greene county, Ill., he resided in Madison 35 years and formerly lived in Granite City. Before retiring, he was employed as a watchmaker for the Liberstein Jewelry Co., East St. Louis, for 28 years.

He was a member of the First Christian Church and Retail Clerks Union Local 676, East St. Louis.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lucretia Mae Perigo; two daughters, Mrs. Fern Aderquist, Fenton, Mo., and Mrs. Floyd (Edith) Hoagland, Maplewood, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. George Hamilton, Kansas City, Mo., five grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

TV Set Stolen But Left In Street; Other Thefts

Burglars apparently were frightened off while taking a television set from the home of John Toth, 4023 Maryville road, last night and fled leaving the set in the street.

Police were notified about 10:10 p.m. and found that a dining room window in the house had been raised to gain entrance. The home was ransacked. Toth is away and it could not be determined if other items were taken.

Theft of a blue and white hi-fi set and a TV set with a brown plastic case from his home was reported to police yesterday afternoon by Michael Brown, 1640 Twenty-third street. There was no sign of a forced entry.

Madison police were notified at 5 p.m. Monday by Lyman Rodgers 1601 Third street, that someone had siphoned 20 gallons of gasoline from his auto the previous night while it was parked in his rear yard. He also reported earlier damage to a fence.

Dr. See Establishing Afghanistan University

Dr. Harold W. See, former vice-president in charge of developing the Quad-City-Edwardsville campus of Southwestern Illinois University, is assisting in the establishment of a state university in Afghanistan, it was disclosed by the U. S. State Department.

He was in charge of preliminary organization and planning of the campus until it resignation as vice-president in the fall of 1960.

After conducting research in higher education, he accepted a post as deputy chief education adviser at the state department's mission at Kabul, Afghanistan, where he and his family have resided since September 1961. The nation borders the Soviet Union but is a U. S. ally, the state department noted.

Sophs Defeat Alton; Have 11-4 Record

Pitcher Doug Winfield shut out Alton sophomores here yesterday on four hits as Granite City high school's second-year baseball club climaxed a good season with a 6-0 victory.

Coach Don "Duke" Brumleve's team, after a slow start, came on strong to finish with an 11-4 mark.

Ray Lord, the team's leading hitter, broke a 0-0 tie with a two-run single in the second. Danny Messey also had tow hits for GCHS.

Proposed Law Would Permit School Boards To Buy Sites

(Special from Springfield)

Legislation to amend the Illinois school code to broaden authority of school boards to buy or lease one or more sites with necessary ground for schools was offered in the General Assembly this week.

It was submitted by the Illinois School Problems Commission, and would permit condemnation, if necessary. However, to build or move a school would require referendum approval.

Voted out of Senate committee last night was the bill to provide loans for closing many retail businesses; and the General Assembly remained deadlocked yesterday over an emergency appropriation of $28,000,000 to finance aid to dependent children and general assistance during May and June.

$1 Fee For Reassignment

A bill was introduced in the Senate this week to amend the state motor vehicles law to require applicants for reassignment of license plate numbers be required to pay an extra fee of $1. Efforts to pass such a bill in previous Assemblies have failed. Several hundred thousand usually seek reassignment each year.

Prescribed age would not be the cause for termination of service of any state employee under a Senate bill. It is in contrast to a pending House bill which calls for compulsory retirement at age 65 but would allow General Assembly and legislative commission employees to remain until they are 70.

Rep. Ralph T. Smith was among sponsors this week on a bill to amend the Illinois Securities Act to authorize the secretary of state's office to conduct examination of securities dealers making application for registration and requirement of a $25 examination fee. It also would require examinations of securities salesmen and a $15 fee.

Warning Is Issued On Misleading Solicitation

Solicitation by telephone of advertisements for an unnamed "AFL-CIO" labor publication is not authorized by that organization or the local Trades and Labor Council, it was announced this week.

Complaints indicate the caller suggests advertising to fight Communism, infers that "Kennedy, J. Edgar Hoover and Meany" support the publications goals, and asks to stop by to give further explanation and obtain cash or a check. He declines to supply any information by mail.

Disaster Drill At Hospital Shows Realism, Efficiency

The mock disaster drill conducted yesterday at St. Elizabeth Hospital showed impressive realism as "victims" of a "boiler room explosion" at Granite City high school were rushed to the high school.

Ambulances arrived screaming into the emergency driveway with about 20 students, feigning major injuries, burns, shock and hysteria.

Application of plastic makeup materials to various parts of the "victims" bodies appeared to be actual wounds.

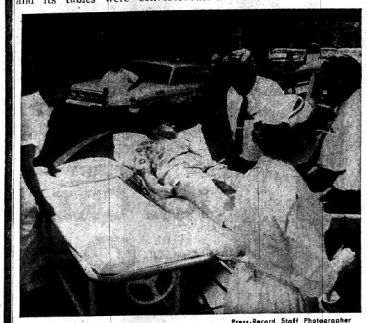

The hospital staff was prepared for the "disaster" and processed the victims with swift efficiency, starting in the emergency rooms and ending in some cases in surgery. Stations included the x-ray rooms, a clinic for burns and surgical preparatory rooms.

The hospital cafeteria room and its tables were converted for emergency treatment purposes to permit the victims to receive emergency treatment without delay.

Most physicians on the staff and nurses and employees on duty participated in the drill, in addition to Candy Stripers who served in various capacities. The "victims" were members of the high school speech class. Clergymen and police assisted in the program.

The drill was one of two required each year for all accredited hospitals which must have major disaster plans and facilities in the event a real disaster occurs.

The drill, which lasted more than an hour, caused concern among some residents despite advance publicity. Some called the hospital and authorities asking if a major accident had occurred after seeing and hearing the ambulances.

HOSPITAL CAFETERIA and tables were converted in the mock disaster drill held yesterday at St. Elizabeth Hospital to permit all 20 "victims" of a supposed boiler room explosion at Granite City high school to receive immediate emergency treatment, including this student with severe back injuries.

PREPARATIONS FOR SURGERY are made at St. Elizabeth Hospital where facilities were used yesterday for a realistic mock disaster drill. Most of the hospital staff, Candy Stripers and other volunteers participated in the exercise which was intensified this year.

By Levee Board

Bid Error Recognized, But Firm Is Held To Contract

A Michigan firm will be held to its contract for the construction of a pumping station at the Cahokia sewage treatment plant to be built by the East Side Levee & Sanitary District, despite a recognized error in the firm's bid price.

The Chase Co. of Harbor Wood, Mich., was low bidder on the project with a price of $549,500, but company President William K. Chase asked levee trustees last night to release his firm from the contract because of a bookkeeping error which occurred in the bid preparation.

Chase told the trustees about $26,000 in bid items were not carried forward from bid sheets to the bid total page, and displayed an affidavit.

Added Cost—$45,000

But levee board President Lawrence Tolar said the district would be forced to ask the company to hold to its contract. "It would cost us about $45,000 if we were to release you from your contract and accept the next highest bidder," he said.

Tolar said he also feared public criticism would the Chase firm be released from its contract. "The first thing some people would say was that money had changed hands under the table."

In other action at its regular meeting, the board of trustees:

Approved payment of salaries for April totaling $46,922.

Adopted three ordinances granting construction easements to the Laclede Pipeline Co. on three separate levee district project sites in East St. Louis.

Approved plans and specifications for construction of a storm water drainage canal to be built in Centreville township.

Award Depot Contract

Awarded to the A. J. Davinroy Plumbing Co. a contract for the construction of a 1½-inch copper pipeline, 440 feet in length, from a pumping station at the Granite City Engineer Depot. Davinroy bid $2225.

Authorized legal department clarification of levee district easements across Terminal Railroad Association property south of the Eads bridge on the site of the proposed "Marina" hotel and boat docking facility.

Recessed until June 3, one week before its regular meeting date, in order that Tolar can attend the President's conference for officers of levee and flood protection district's in Washington.

Mexico Official Coming To Discuss Possible 2nd Tour

Dr. J. Guadalupe Mainero, director of all television in Mexico, will be in Granite City this weekend to present a film to the Coolidge junior high school Latin American rhythm ensemble and to discuss the possibility of a second tour by the ensemble.

The sound and color film of a Mexico City concert by the Coolidge students last August was televised in that country and then shown at schools throughout Mexico during recent months.

It will be turned over to Robert D. Todoroff, ensemble director, and will be available to local organizations whose members wish to view it.

The film is being presented as a gift to Todoroff by the musicians' union of Mexico.

Dr. Mainero plans a preliminary discussion of the feasibility of a 1963 tour by the current ensemble. It would include various Latin American nations and would be made under the auspices of the Mexico Department of Education, in cooperation with other Mexican governmental agencies and the musicians' group.

Whether such a trip will be decided upon remains indefinite.

Unemployed Father Of 12 Given County Post

Clyde Sanders of Nameoki township will be recommended for employment as maintenance engineer for the county courthouse, jail and nursing home at Edwardsville at the meeting of the Madison county board of supervisors at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

He was selected over five other applicants who were interviewed yesterday by courthouse county jail and nursing home committees. If the appointment is approved, he will succeed Ben Eberhart of Mitchell who resigned after he was elected as Chouteau township road commissioner on April 2.

The position pays $3480 a year or $290 a month. County officials said Sanders is unemployed and has 12 children who are receiving aid-to-dependent children benefits. The family resides near the Tri-City Park area.

County officials said his selection was based upon his qualifications to do the work. Two ballots were required to select Sanders. On the first, he and Ernst P. Stunkel of Edwardsville each received five. On the second, Sanders received eight and Stunkel five.

Insect Blamed For Crash On State St.

An insect that flew into his eye caused Wilburn J. Bosworth, 29, of 2916 Sunset drive, to lose control of his auto and sideswipe a parked taxicab in the 1900 block of State street about 3:30 a.m. today.

Bosworth told police he was traveling north when the mishap occurred. The parked taxi belonged to Checker Cab Co., 1920 State street.

It takes a well-adjusted man to make the best of it when he gets the worst of it.

Education Problems To Be Aired At Workshop

Can citizens participate with educators in effectively solving the complex problems of education?

This is the subject to be explored Monday at a workshop on citizens' participation in education at the Quad-City-Edwardsville Campus of Southwestern Illinois University.

With sessions at 10:30 a.m. and 2:15 p.m., the meeting, sponsored by SWIU in cooperation with the Illinois Citizens Education Committee, will take place at the new Holiday Inn motor lodge near the campus.

The first session, for school administrators, school board members and interested citizens, will be devoted to a study of the procedures, methods of organization, and the programs of existing school sponsored citizens' groups which have made major contributions to the educational pattern of their local communities.

A panel composed of a school administrator, a consultant, a board member and lay citizen will present the ground rules under which such committees can function effectively.

The second session, open to faculty members only, will be devoted to an organization session of possible university consultants to citizens' groups. Members of the first session panel will take part.

report to the council," Moerlien said.

Under the Personnel committee, headed by Donald Partney, Mayor Davis reported that notices had been received from all unions representing city employees to open wage negotiations. He suggested the committee begin preparations for contract talks to be completed in time for a July adoption of a new city budget.

A suggestion was made by Alderman Paul Rutledge for all aldermen to be furnished a listing of arterial streets and motor fuel tax improvement projects under way or authorized. He added that new aldermen should be supplied with a copy of the Municipal Code.

Introduction By Retirees

In the changeover from the old to the new council, Mayor Davis called upon the retiring aldermen to introduce the new council members.

For the First Ward, outgoing Estill V. Schmittou introduced Moerlien, who in turn introduced William Dallas as his colleague. Rufus LeMaster introduced new Third Ward Alderman Clyde Boyd, who was called upon to introduce J. D. Bergfield. Dallas and Bergfield were elected to two-year terms.

Outgoing Samuel Shackelford of the Sixth Ward arrived too late to introduce William McGee, and the ceremony was carried out by Sixth Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish.

Charles Meyer introduced Sternberg for the Seventh Ward, and Frank Vesel presented Earl Thompson for the Eighth Ward.

The retiring aldermen vacated their seats to the new solons and then joined the audience. Most of them stayed for the remainder of the meeting.

Each retiring alderman made brief comments about his experience while a council member.

OPPOSES INCOME TAX AND LOTTERY BY STATE

To the Editor:

One year ago I ran for public office. I was not nominated, but I did state my views before the public.

At that time, I said there should be some new taxes concerning training of those persons on state aid, such as ADC. It should help them to develop a skill that would enable them to get employment.

Since that time, there have been some efforts along that line.

Also, I stated there should be a homestead law to help the retired people. It would guarantee them a roof over their heads for life, without fear of the state taking it away from them for taxes. This, too, is being considered.

Now I am hearing that people should make up their minds whether they want a state income tax or a legalized lottery tax. As far as I'm concerned, we don't need either, in addition to the present sales tax.

It is said some officials say we will have an income tax within two years, and I'm afraid they are right. This either-or proposition is a trick to get the people to choose one or the other.

Had I been elected, I would not have voted for an income tax plus the present sales tax. Legalized lottery would be worse than the income tax.

I still believe there are enough people interested in the morals of America to vote against legalized lottery. To my dollar means everything and morals nothing, then wherein are we any different than Godless, materialistic Communism?

PARTNEY, DAVIS AGAINST PUBLIC ON FLUORIDATION

To the Editor:

On April 22 you carried an editorial going to great pains in mentioning the names of those aldermen who have for years been protesting, blocking and preventing the fluoridation program from becoming effective, which program was voted in by a good majority of the people of Granite City.

Names were mentioned of those who changed their vote and those who were still obstinately holding out in giving the people the right which they chose.

However, one name of an alderman, particularly, was omitted. This alderman got up on the floor three different times on Monday, April 15, to circumvent the people's choice and the people's desire. Nothing was reported in the paper about the various points and number of protests this alderman brought out to stop fluoridation.

Also, you failed to mention this alderman's name among those who were opposed to it in your editorial, in spite of the fact that he led the pack against the will of the people, attempting to put in every obstacle of money, etc. The alderman who is doing his utmost to defeat this is Don Partney.

Seven wards voted fluoridation in and one ward did not. But seven to one is a very good majority of the whole. The mayor did not vote that night to break a tie, but he is required to vote and break a tie vote, no matter which way it carries.

Why does the mayor deny the majority of the people their expressed will by a vote taken? Is he not man enough to be counted?

Why does Alderman Partney deny the will of seven wards in the city? An alderman frequently has to vote on matters which concern the whole city, in which case he must look at the whole city and give the city what it wants, especially when it expressly says what it wants at that one great right — the vote.

Is Alderman Partney bigger than the public mandate?

COUNCIL OBSERVER.

(Editor's note: The editorial listed all aldermen who had voted "No" both this year and two years ago. There is some legal doubt that a tie-breaking vote was mandatory due to phrasing of the motion.)

COVERAGE ADDED TO SUCCESS OF OPEN HOUSE

To the Editor:

Sunday, April 28, was "Good Will Sunday" in this parish.

The open house which our parishioners sponsored was highly successful. A large number of people from the Granite City area of many different religious faiths came and manifested a very genuine spirit of friendship.

We would like to think that the cause of Christian unity and understanding in this area was promoted by the open house.

The success of our "Good Will Sunday" would not have been possible had it not been for the extensive coverage that it received in the Press-Record.

We here at St. Elizabeth want to express our appreciation to you and your staff, especially to Mr. Brown, for the fine help and cooperation that you gave us.

May God bless you all.

SUBVERSIVE LINK RULES OUT LAWYER APPLICANTS

To the Editor:

An applicant refused to answer questions as to membership in the Communist party or subversive organizations at a time when his application was being heard before the Committee on Character and Fitness for admission as a lawyer to the Illinois State Bar Association.

The final decision of the Illinois State Supreme Court on Jan. 21, 1960, was, by majority opinion, that the application was denied.

One of the dissenting opinions comments upon the fact that during the time his application for admission was pending, the committee "received no information from any outside source which would cast any doubt on applicant's loyalty or which would tend to connect him in any manner with any subversive group."

"Those who resort to such subterfuge as is used in the dissenting opinion as a defense, if their logic is to be followed through, would argue that since the applicant committed no offense while his application was pending that that should establish his fitness.

We spend fifty-two billion dollars a year to combat communism and ask for our protection from it. Why should we permit them to infiltrate themselves into our professions?

The burden of proof is upon the applicant to prove his character and fitness and not upon the committee to prove his case for him. This is not a mere formality. The character and fitness, means what it says.

This case appears in Illinois State Supreme Court, Volume 18, 2d Series, pages 182 to 226. The decision was affirmed by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The decision of the court of last resort was right when it was rendered, it is still right and I hope will continue to be the law of this state and of this land.

Land Cost For St. Louis College Nearly 90 Times That Of SWIU

If any proof is needed to confirm the wisdom of early land purchases for public sites, it is clearly shown in this week's announcement that a six-acre tract for the new St. Louis junior college will cost approximately $51,000 per acre.

This compares with an average acre-cost around $600 for the 2600-acre Southwestern Illinois University campus. Foresight of the citizens' committee, which raised a large part of the site cost through voluntary contributions, has been commended for many reasons; now it appears economy also can be added. The Press-Record is glad to have been a part of the citizens' effort.

The same logic for early land purchases for future development can be applied to the proposed Horseshoe Lake recreation area, as well as to sites for a major airport, industrial expansion and new industries.

Pistol-Packing Policewomen A Weighty Decision By State

The state police force, which accepted its first woman police officer for initial training this month, has announced that there is no limit on the number who may be hired. But we wonder how many applicants there will be, since few women will want to admit that they weigh between 150 and 183 pounds.

Less eyebrow-raising requirements include height between five feet two inches and five feet nine inches; college education or five years of experience in social, probation, legal, parole, penal, clerical, stenography, nursing, teaching or investigative work; and age from 25 to 41 years.

There is some disagreement over whether that much weight is necessary, since 100-pounders experienced in judo can subdue 250-pounders with ease.

But large or small, Illinois' female troopers cannot be disregarded when they are seeking to enforce the law. Each will carry a gun and—judging by the entrance requirements—each will have excellent vision.

Heroic Efforts By Firemen In Battling Bridge Blaze

The life of a fireman is looked upon with envy by many young children, but there was little glamour and plenty of danger as Venice and St. Louis firefighters answered a McKinley Bridge fire, the second such incident there in recent years.

Lowered by ropes to direct water onto burning creosoted timbers in the sub-structure of the bridge, high above the mighty Mississippi, the firemen displayed both courage and confidence, the latter not shared by Coast Guardsmen who brought a rescue boat to the scene.

A hazard of a different type presented itself in the 1950s when fire broke out beneath the bridge deck in bitterly-cold winter weather. Wind sweeping unhampered down the river lowered the temperature further and added to the prospect of frostbite for volunteers already wet by the spray from the fire hose.

Oh, for the life of a fireman—until the alarm sounds.

Long Wait For Riverfront Highway Nearing An End

The long-awaited Mitchell-to-Venice link in the Mississippi River scenic highway is moving nearer to reality with property appraisals in progress, land acquisition scheduled by the end of this year and paving work to follow.

Expected to be of immense value to the Quad-Cities, Federal Aid Route 151 will gain still more importance when extended to the south. We hope there is no undue delay in linking not only Alton and the Quad-Cities but also East St. Louis, providing access to the area immediately opposite the new Gateway Arch on the western bank.

Many Internal Changes As State Balances Its Biggest Budget Without New Taxes

Just as appropriations and levies by local governmental agencies vitally affect Quad-Cityans, financial decisions by the General Assembly apply directly to the local community. Perusal of the proposed 1963-65 state budget shows why public aid —a subject that many people are weary of hearing about—remains at the center of the stage.

Welfare assistance is responsible for the biggest spending boost proposed for the next biennium—$135 million. Highways are charted for a $74 million rise, universities $59 million, mental health $40 million and schools $39 million.

The $363 million overall increase is eased somewhat by word that "only" $185 million more is to come from state sources, including $155 million from broadened sales and use taxes and $10 million in greater yields from other taxes. The other $178 million revenue boost will represent federal funds; the U. S. for example, is to provide $651 million of the $792 million to be devoted to highway construction. Of the $3,890,000,000 budget total, $1,057,000,000 or 27.2% is from federal aid, $2,389,000,000 or 61.4% state taxes and fees and $443 million or 11.4%, state building bonds and revolving funds.

While it is true that no entirely new taxes are scheduled, balancing of the largest Illinois budget in history has not occurred by accident. Capital outlay has been chopped $80 million, original departmental requests have been trimmed, an anticipated July 1 balance of $70 million is to be used, and revenue is slated to rise on the public utility, liquor, hotel-cigaret and motor fuel taxes.

Some money has been provided to raise the pay of university and other state employees, but the full college cost picture still has not been revealed. Construction plans at the state universities —other than the 1960 bond issue program—have been deferred for inclusion in a long-range financing program to be unveiled later this year.

Complicated? Yes, but worthy of study by all local residents. Services available to the public, and the means of paying for them, hinge directly on the planning currently in progress at Springfield.

A good neighbor is one who loans but never borrows.

Years Spent With Mothers Cast Mold For Later Life

Mother's Day, which will be observed nationally for the 50th time on Sunday, spotlights a subject that also receives attention throughout the year —appreciation of the unique contribution made by mothers in molding the minds and character of individuals during their formative years.

Recent studies have suggested that a person's basic outlook on life, his ability to meet the outside world on even terms, is determined at a far younger age than was estimated previously. The theory is that, while later events hone the rough edges, a person is substantially shaped before he reaches school-age, some say by the age of two or three.

Whether this is always true or not, it is clear that a person owes much more to his mother than merely gratitude for being brought into the world. The parental love he receives as a child means much in terms of his future sense of security; his mother, partly because she is home for longer periods than the father, is in an ideal position to provide much of the loving care and guidance that is so essential.

Environment is now conceded to rank equally or even have greater importance than heredity. Quad-Cityans on Sunday will salute the women who provided half their heredity and nearly all of their environment when they were young—their mothers.

House Bill Attacks Home Rule By Illinois Cities

Illinois Municipal League opposition to House Bill 123 is understandable. In prohibiting any combination of police and fire departments in cities of 12,000 to 500,000 population, the proposal would attack home rule by preventing municipalities from deciding the matter on their own.

Champaign, Evanston, Glencoe, Highland Park, Peoria, Park Forest and other cities have found partly-combined fire and police units to be successful and economical. Other communities are satisfied with the efficiency of separate departments.

It does not make sense for the state to adopt an arbitrary rule that would force all municipalities to handle a purely internal affair in exactly the same manner as every other city. Yet the plan was blocked easily by a veto in 1959 and has so much House support this year that the Senate appears to be the only place where there is still a chance of defeating it.

People who talk about individual rights often forget that the Constitution also talks about the general welfare.

STATE URGING BROADER EDUCATION FOR GIFTED

This week has been proclaimed as Exceptional Children's Week in Illinois. I urge all citizens to give unselfishly of their attention and whatever else may be needed in the success of programs in this vital area.

Exceptional children are defined in Illinois as those who are talented and gifted as well as those who are orthopedically handicapped, deaf, blind, partially seeing, speech handicapped, mentally retarded and socially maladjusted.

The Illinois rogram for exceptional children is considered outstanding by educators.

Visits Suggested

The Illinois Commission for Handicapped Children, in connection with this week's observance, is asking citizens interested in the program to visit the special education classes in their local public and parochial schools.

I would like to call attention to one facet of our program in the area of exceptional children, and that is our mission of offering more toward the education of gifted children.

In the budget I have presented the General Assembly is included the recommendation for $6,750,000 to be set aside for education of our gifted and talented youngsters.

Because from these groups of youths will come our leaders of tomorrow, it is vitally important to their own welfare, as well as for the welfare of the state of Illinois, that we develop programs that will bring out the very best in these youngsters.

Demonstrations Planned

Aiding us in our mission is a $203,340 federal grant to University High School in Champaign-Urbana which is enabling us to chart new courses of action in this field.

The program that University High School will demonstrate represents one aspect of an over-all plan that has been drawn up for Illinois.

This plan is based on recommendations made by the Special Study Project For Gifted Children and is contained in the group's final report.

In line with our efforts, a Conference on Cooperative Demonstration Programs for Talented and Gifted Youth was held at the University of Illinois recently to spur action along all educational fronts.

Civil War Centennial Questions

This ten-part quiz has been prepared by Tent 90, Daughters of Union Veterans, to test Quad-Cityans' knowledge of Civil War history during the centennial observance.)

2. The Battle of Bull Run was the war's first major engagement. The battle was a (standoff) (crushing defeat for the South) (a near-rout of the North) (an indecisive skirmish)

3. Barbara Frietchie's defiance was hurled upon the figure of Stonewall Jackson during his entrance into Frederick, Md. A MESSAGE FOR MOTHER'S DAY

The home is a very dear subject. And as May brings Mother's Day and June Father's Day, now is a good time to think of the home.

Mother and father are two very important people in establishing a home. But the home isn't complete until there are children.

Let's enlarge the family to include the heavenly Father's family, Jesus, His Son, said some things hard to understand about the family: "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me." Then, "If any hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he is not be my disciple."

What was he saying? Merely this: God must come first.

Jesus Himself was a good son and loved His home. But He wanted people to see beyond their own. His mother and brothers were seeking Him, He said, "My Mother and my brothers are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

Help From Home, Heaven

Following this admonition makes for a good home, a good society, and all the family of God, Obeying Him brings home and heaven closer together. Often the battles of life are too much for us unless we draw needed help from a good home and from heaven.

Having said this, let's remember that Mother's Day and Father's Day mean more than hearing a sentimental sermon, or giving flowers. There must be a closeness to God in the family, and a love for others. A self-surrender to rightousness and "Asking for the old paths where is the good way, and walking therein."

Bad examples by adults, especially parents, is asking for trouble. Why so much juvenile trouble? Could it be that the home in many instances is cheapened by cheap, sexy literature? Modesty has been thrown out the window. Virtue is questioned by many who want to be considered good folk. Selfish desire in gaining means or lust is condoned by many.

All this is too common today. One is considered an odd number if he raises his voice. But it would do good to move back to the old paths, and hear: "Thus saith the Lord."

Sentiment Not Enough

Something must be done to preserve the good homes. Just being sentimental won't get the job done. Flowers, tears and special days need not to be mixed with spirtiual values.

When it comes to making Christian homes, there must be sacrifice and God must be given first place. It costs giving up the ways of the world in order to be counted a members of the heavenly family; having many mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters. Yea, and self will put God first and others next.

Let us now begin the immediate selves, and help our Father embrace the whole world into the family of heaven and earth. Treat the other fellow's sister and mother as if they were your own.

This will save the day. For children will see the Christ likeness in us, making it easy for them to live likewise.

CARE OF PRIMARY TEETH IS IMPORTANT

"Why worry about a child's primary teeth?" many parents ask. "They're only temporary."

Little do they realize that by neglecting the care of their offspring's primary teeth they are establishing a basis for emotional and physical distress, not only in the child's adolescent years, but in his adult life as well.

Listed below are five good reasons why you, as a parent, should be concerned about the care of your child's primary or "baby" teeth:

1. Healthy primary teeth are essential because they provide the young child with his only means of chewing. Needless to say, proper chewing of food is important as an aid to digestion.

Aid Later Teeth

2. Primary teeth — if they are strong and healthy—play an important role in the development of the "six-year" molars, as they hold the molars in place and prevent them from drifting or tipping forward.

3. Should a child lose a primary tooth early—and nothing is done about it—a deformed arch of permanent teeth may develop, resulting in crooked teeth.

4. Premature loss of primary teeth may also leave spaces for the developing permanent teeth to drift, resulting in a deformity of the jaw. When this happens, the child is handicapped with a "poor bite" which can lead indirectly to digestive difficulties.

5. Neglected primary teeth are prone to develop cavities, which may account for toothaches and other dental infections that threaten the general health and well-being of a child.

Most Common Child Disease

Statistics show that dental decay is by far the most common disease of children.

Since the dental decay, once started, can only be controlled by proper cleaning out of the cavity and restoring the tooth structure with a filling, children should begin seeing their dentist regularly at an early age.

Keep up regular visits.

Help your child by treating the dental conditions from developing that may later cause suffering, expense and social maladjustment.

Davis Names 11 Committees, Wants Active Participation

Senior aldermen head all but two of the 11 city council committees named Monday night by Mayor Davis.

Charles W. Moerlien, a former mayor and alderman, heads the Special Pollution Study committee, and G. H. Sternberg, a contractor, is chairman of the Street and Alley committee. Only one alderman, Donald Partney, heads two committees —Planning and Zoning and Personnel.

The pollution committee, and the new Legislation committee, headed by Alderwoman Mrs. Gabrielle Betinec, are the only three-member committees. All others have four members.

Mayor Davis said he made the change basically from three-member committees in order to have all 16 council members serving on more than one committee. "We want active participation by all aldermen on all committees," he said.

During Monday night's meeting, the council also voted to change the municipal code to separate the Finance-Ordinance committee. The joint committee had been headed by Alderman Walter Nonn.

Finance, Ordinance Chairmen

Under the new arrangement, Paul Rutledge heads the Finance committee, while Nonn remains as chairman of the Ordinance committee.

The mayor also said he plans to adhere to the Southern Illinois University government study suggestion that the council reserve the fourth Monday of each month for committee sessions.

"We'll talk about it at the chairman's meeting next Monday night. I plan for the council to meet in a brief session on the fourth Monday to pay bills and salaries and then adjourn for committee meetings," he explained.

Committee Appointments

Committee appointments approved unanimously were:

Finance — Rutledge, Moerlien, William McGee and J. D. Bergfield.

Ordinance — Nonn, Edmund Bartosiak, Samuel Whitmer and William Dallas.

Street and Alley — Sternberg, Whitmer, Earl Thompson and Mrs. Betinec.

Police — Whitmer, Steve Basarich, Ford Johnson and Bartosiak.

Fire — Johnson, Dallas, Clyde Boyd and Bergfield.

Street Lights — Basarich, Mrs. Betinec, Bergfield and McGee.

Planning and Zoning — Partney, Boyd, Sternberg and Thompson.

City Hall — Casmer Skubish, Mrs. Betinec, Dallas and Bartosiak.

Legislation — Mrs. Betinec, Moerlien and Skubish.

Personnel — Partney, McGee, Thompson and Boyd.

Special Pollution — Moerlien, Johnson and McGee.

$12,400 Savings For IPAC In County

A cumulative savings to the Illinois Public Aid Commission of $12,409 has been realized since the special service load project was started in Madison county last October, it was reported this week at Edwardsville.

The special project permits a caseworker to concentrate on a smaller number of public aid recipients to aid the individual.

The savings resulted from discontinuance and adjustments in relief grants as employment was found for recipients. Fulltime and part-time employment was found as seamstresses, beauticians, baby sitters, domestics, waitresses, sales clerics, restaurant cooks, office workers and a licensed practical nurse.

Special training is being provided for seven practical nurses, five in secretarial work, four in power sewing, two for beauty culture and one each in the fields of electronics and nurses aide.

Circuit Court Case Backlog Levels Off

The backlog of cases in the circuit courts of Madison county remained nearly static in the first quarter of the year, it was reported this week at Edwardsville by Circuit Clerk Willard Portell.

On Jan. 1 there were 2097 cases pending. The number increased to 2147 by Feb. 1 and by March 1 had dropped to 2134. By March 31, the backlong was 2151.

Recent tighter court regulations and an increased number of jury trials were considered the reasons for the lower backlog than in previous years.

He advised the members on actions they should take if confronted with accident situations. Other phases of law were discussed and a question-and-answer session was held.

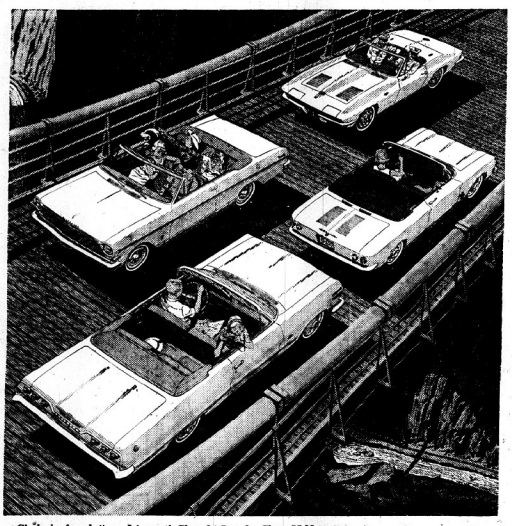

During a short business meeting, an installation dinner-dance was set tentatively for June 29. Arthur L. Metcalf, club president, conducted the meeting. Seventeen members attended.

Two Depot Workers Get Safe Driving Awards

In recent ceremonies, Col. John M. Ansley, commanding officer of the Granite City Engineer Depot, presented safe driver awards to Roy Brown and James Delaney.

To be eligible for the award, the two men drove vehicles over 8000 miles each on official government business during 1962 without an accident.

Brown, who is chief of the Engineer Regional Maintenance Office, a tenant on the depot, resides at 2132 Miracle avenue. Delaney, a depot employee, lives at 3245 Fehling road.

A boys 'ensemble rendered "This Land Is Your Land," "Lady of Spain" and "Oh Yes, Oh Yes, Wait 'Til I Git on My Robe." A girls' ensemble sang "Prayer of the Norwegian Child" and "I Could Have Danced All Night."

Girl Scout Troop 234 conducted a flag ceremony and the student vocalists gave the pledge of allegiance. The audience joined the choral groups in singing the national anthem and in a community sing featuring "The Happy Wanderer" and "A Bicycle Built for Two."

The combined groups concluded the evening with "Good News" and "Years of Decision," accompanied by Craig Eads, drummer. The chorus was composed of 83 students and there were 26 vocalists in the glee club.

Exceptional Children's Week Being Observed

"Exceptional Children's Week in Illinois," which has as its theme, "The Exceptional—Whose Challenge?", is being observed this week in the three Quad-City school districts.

Observance of the special week, which has been proclaimed by Gov. Otto Kerner, calls attention to a varied educational program that has been expanding rapidly in recent years.

Exceptional pupils are defined as those who deviate from the so-called norms to the extent that they require modification of the regular educational or vocational services.

Local Classes

Services that come under this heading include the operation of four educable mentally handicapped classes in the Granite City district, two EMH classes in the Madison-Venice area and one trainable mentally handicapped class in Granite City.

Related fields include speech correction, nursing services, a Madison school sociologist, a Granite City supervisor of special services, homebound instruction, two county school psychologists and a regional sight-saving school.

Possibility of establishing regional classes for the hard of hearing next fall is under discussion. The state also is urging special programs for unusually gifted children.

The theme of the 1963 Exceptional Children's Week has been explained by Leonard A. Dobson, president of the Illinois Council for Exceptional Children, who says that "too often in the past, the challenge of children and youth with special needs has concerned only those few persons who have worked directly with them.

Develop To Full Limits

"But, if these children are to develop to the limits of their capabilities, the challenge must be accepted not only by those persons but also by the public in general—by parents, by all school personnel, by all social and welfare agencies, by civic and religious organizations and by local, state and national governments.

"Probably the challenge has not been accepted by all because of a lack of knowledge and understanding of exceptional children. Exceptional Children's Week provides an opportunity to increase laymen's knowledge of the subject. If more become involved in the activities, they, too, can contribute to meeting the challenge."

In his proclamation, Gov. Kerner noted that the Illinois special education program is "recognized by authorities as unequaled in scope. It includes children orthopedically handicapped, deaf, blind, partially seeing, speech handicapped, mentally retarded, socially maladjusted and gifted."

Role Of Public

The public is being brought into the picture because of the belief that exceptional children receive the greatest benefit and have the best chance to reach their full potential when citizens and religious, rehabilitation, health, welfare, social and recreation agencies cooperate actively with the school programs.

Goals of the ICEC are to inform residents of the capacities and potentials of exceptional children, the services available and the unmet needs; to build in the community continuing interest in such children, to the end that citizens will be aroused to acceptance and action; to create in taxpayers a willingness to support the instruction, which is regarded as consistent with the ideal of offering all an equal opportunity for education; to encourage progressive legislation; to interest young people in preparing for careers in special education; and to develop among school officials an appreciation of the social significance of education of the handicapped, as well as a conviction of the value of special education to the total school system.

Estimates indicate that 12.5% of the U. S. school population can be defined as exceptional. About one-and-a-quarter million children receive special education, but about three times this number "need help but are not receiving it," the ICEC asserts.

Bartosiak Named Deputy Liquor Commissioner

Second Ward Alderman Edmund Bartosiak was named deputy liquor commissioner for Granite City by Mayor Davis, and the appointment was confirmed Monday night by the city council.

Bartosiak succeeds Eighth Ward Alderman Frank Vesci, who was defeated in the April 2 election. Vesci held the post for several years. His predecessor was Alderman Estill V. Schmittou, who also was defeated in a bid for re-election in April.

Two Bonds Approved

The council approved two $2000 tavern license bonds at Monday's meeting. They were for Joseph Wylie for a tavern at 16th street and Madison avenue and Everett Messinger for Eddie's Lounge, 2900 Nameoki road.

Bartosiak said he was not familiar with the bond applications, but approval was given as Mayor Davis, who is city liquor commissioner, pointed out they were renewals. Wylie took over the operation of the Madison avenue tavern about two months ago.

Uniwah Archery Club Preparing For 'Big Game Hunt'

As its name suggests, the Uniwah Field Archery club is made up of men, women and youngsters dedicated to the "bow and arrow sport."

But several of Uniwah's members have been more occupied with brushes than bows of late. These archers-turned-artists have been at work for a couple of months fashioning life-like and life-size animal targets which the club will space around its range near Edwardsville on Sunday, May 19.

That is the date of Uniwah's annual "Safari Shoot," a sort of big-game hunt where the archer need not worry about a charging wild animal but may concentrate instead on placing as many arrows as possible inside the "sure kill" circles on hand-painted cardboard cutouts representing everything from a wild boar to a rhinoceros.

Top shooters in a wide variety of classes will take home trophies instead of meat for the table.

Targets will be spaced around a 20-acre course at various distances ranging from 35 feet to 80 yards. Bowmen must estimate the range and will get three shots at each target.

A "bull" with the first arrow will score 20 points, while six points will be deducted from the possible 20 for each shot which goes astray.

Field Targets, Too

An additional 28 field targets—the more familiar bullseye—will be placed on a separate course, again at varying distances, to provide a second category for shooters.

The meet, one of many scheduled this season by Uniwah, is required to shoot in the open open to any archer who cares to class.

Archers may use either the free style or instinctive methods, about 125 contestants from the 400-class instinctive group down but the majority of entries are through the "cub" class tboys expected in the latter class.

Even A Dinosaur

The registered tournament is sanctioned by the National Field Archery Association and the Illinois Archery Association. Entrants not holding NFAA or IAA classification cards will be encountered in the field.

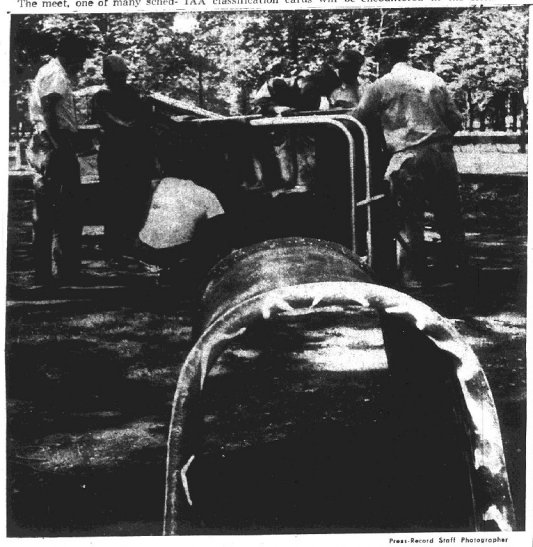

The animal targets a scaled-down cutout of a stegosaurus dinosaur which lived 60 million years ago is included!—will provide conditions similar to those in the field.

Uniwah members have made good use of experience gained at past safari shoots. The club's ratio of hunters in the field to number of deer taken with bow and arrow is three to five.

Additional information concerning the May tournament and field archery in general, including plans for an indoor club in Granite City, is available from Joe Bliddick at TR 7-6326 or James Bliddick at TR 6-0434.

ELEPHANTS IN MADISON COUNTY? Well, only one, and he's constructed of cardboard, and will serve as one of 28 targets during Uniwah Archery club's annual "Safari shoot Sunday, May 19. Applying finishing touches to the hand-painted target are Butch Bujnak (left) and Harlan Luffman, both Uniwah members.

Mercer Home To Carpenter In Quest For 3rd Victory; Hearts Play In Collinsville

Riding along on the strong arm of pitcher Bob Vetter, Mercer Funeral Home will attempt to make it three wins in a row Sunday when the Granite City club hosts Carpenter at 2:30 in Wilson Park.

Vetter has pitched two complete-game victories, but Mercer still trails St. Clair Heating of East St. Louis by half a game in the Blue division standings of the Inter-City Baseball league by reason of a rain-out on April 28.

St. Clair, which has pounded opposing pitchers for 66 runs in three games, is home to Maryville Sunday. Pocahontas, the third unbeaten team in the strong Blue division, tackles Moose Lodge No. 4 of East St. Louis on the Braves' home field.

Rivals Granite City Sacred Heart and Collinsville Boosters of the Red league will clash at Fletcher Field in Collinsville as the Hearts try to do something about an 0-2 record and pitching and defense which have given up 30 runs in the two losses.

The Boosters, like the Hearts unaccustomed to looking up to too many teams in the league, are 1-2.

Finally, a battle between two winless clubs completes the Sunday schedule of five games, Troy and the Altwood Flyers, both 0-2, meet at Troy.

Patterson Has Car In 'Little 500' Time Trials May 11

Bobby Gene Patterson of Madison and Pete Petersen of Granite City will take their Corvette-powered sprint car to Anderson, Ind., this week in hopes of qualifying there for the May 25 running of the "Little 500" at the Sun Valley Speedway.

The car was purchased by Patterson last October in New York and has been on the track once this year, running the opening night at the Tri-City Speedway.

Petersen will drive in the May 11 time trials and in the 500-lap race if the car qualifies. Chances are about one in 10 that it will. Patterson said, since upwards of 300 sprint machines are expected to compete in trials which will narrow the starting field to 33 cars.

The racer was built originally for the Indianapolis 500 circuit, where it placed fifth in 1951. Regardless of what happens at Anderson, the car will be a regular entry in modified races at the speedway here this summer, the owner said.

Pet Clinics For Rabies Next Two Saturdays

Ex-City Attorney Urges Increase In Legal Staff

The city of Granite City should have either a full-time legal advisor or one corporation counsel and an assistant, John Gitchoff, former city attorney, told the Granite City Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at the YMCA.

"The volume of work is just too much for one part-time city attorney at $575 per month," he said, adding that the city of Alton, which is comparable in size and industrial character, has two part-time attorneys who are paid a total of $1100 a month.

Attorney Gitchoff pointed out that the city attorney here is required to draft ordinances, deliver legal opinions, prosecute police cases, prepare an increasing volume of state and federal reports, as well as answer questionnaires, handle property condemnations, attend city council meetings, and "act as legal counsel to just about every city official" besides being drawn into numerous matters that "actually are of a private nature between constituents of the aldermen or are not really a city attorney's duty."

Gitchoff estimated that he averaged 40 hours a week on city affairs during his tenure, and still was not able to cope with the backlog of work that had piled up over an extended period of time. "I would guess that this condition continues to exist."

Increasing the salary of the part-time city attorney is not the answer, he emphasized, because that would not bring any more time to the job.

"But a part-time corporation counsel, plus a part-time city attorney, could handle both the paper and research work, as well as prosecute police cases and even assist the police in criminal interviews, etc."

Eugene Aiassi, program chairman, introduced Gitchoff and pointed out that his experience has included service as corporation counsel, city attorney, school district attorney, and assistant state's attorney.

President Gerald Broadway read a letter from Sister Mary Frances, administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital, thanking the Rotary Club for its donation of a dental light.

Approval also was given by the club for $250 to send two high school speech students to a special summer course at Northwestern University and for $100 to charter buses for a group of crippled children to visit Illinois places of historical interest.

Broadway announced that more offers than necessary had been received for overnight lodging for overseas visitors to the Rotary International convention in St. Louis next month. An appeal was made for similar lodging for members of the 100-voice boys chorus coming to the convention under sponsorship of the Beloit, Wis., Rotary Club.

Gov. Otto Kerner last week signed into law bills amending the School Code. One of the bills raises tax rate limitations from .9 of one % to 1.60% for educational purposes in community consolidated school districts. Another bill provides that in addition to general grants and equalization quotas, grants shall be determined for pupil attendance in summer school.

Plowing for corn and soybeans is more than 90% completed, according to a report from the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. This is about three weeks ahead of the five-year average and two weeks earlier than 1962.

Plowing advanced most rapidly in the lower half of the state. Major activities have been the preparations for corn and soybean planting. Winter wheat prospects continue good to excellent and the crop is of good color and making good growth, according to the report.

In an appeal to all sheriffs and police chiefs in towns of more than 2500 population, Joseph E. Ragen, director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety, asked for more stringent enforcement of traffic laws.

In a letter to law enforcement heads statewide, Ragen pointed out that last year more than 41,000 persons died violent deaths on the nation's highways. In Illinois, 1890 persons lost their lives and daily reports by the Illinois state police have shown increases, hovering at from five to seven % over 1962 traffic accident figures.

"We must stop this terrific slaughter of people in auto accidents," Ragen said. "By working together at both the state and local levels, we can and will reverse this upward trend in traffic accidents, many of which result in death," he said.

The annual summary of Illinois agricultural statistics for the year 1962 was issued last week by the USDA-Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service.

Illinois ranked first in the nation in production of soybeans; second in production of corn; sixth in production of oats and seventh in production of wheat. The state ranks third among all states in production of agricultural crops, valued at $1.4 billion.

Copies of the report may be obtained by writing to Robert H. Moats, Illinois Crop Reporting Service, P. O. Box 429, Springfield.

Gov. Kerner has expressed his strong support for the continuation and expansion of the federal area redevelopment program. The subcommittee on production and stabilization of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee is holding hearings on proposed amendments to the Area Redevelopment Act. of 1961.

"I know of no federal legislation that has done more to restore confidence in areas of our state where discouragement and lack of hope had become chronic because of long-term and substantial unemployment," Gov. Kerner said.

"The Area Redevelopment Administration has made it possible to give people back their self-respect and to help communities help themselves economically and psychologically," the governor said.

Thirty-one applications totaling $3,419,391 in loans and grants for industrial projects, public facilities, technical assistance and worker training programs have been approved in Illinois during the 18 months ARA has been in existence. The governor predicts that these projects will provide 7155 new jobs and training positions.

Farmers are asked to watch for a beetle called the oulema melanopa. The beetle damages grain crops and grasses and can multiply rapidly.

The insect is about one-quarter of an inch long, with metallic blue wing covers and reddish brown body and legs. The adult beetle may be present at all times during the year.

If any beetles of this description are found in Illinois they should be reported immediately to William T. Larkin, superintendent of the Division of Plant Industry, Illinois Department of Agriculture, Springfield.

Man Slashed On Arm By Unknown Assailant

Madison police are investigating the slashing of Ray Welshan, 44, of 2821 Marshall avenue, who was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:15 p.m. Monday for three small cuts on the right forearm.

Welshan related leaving a tavern at 12th street and Madison avenue an hour earlier and said two men confronted him as he walked westward on 12th street. One wielded a pocketknife as he neared the alley between Madison and Grand avenues, he said. He was unable to provide a description of the men.

Former Resident Pleads Guilty To Bank Robbery

George W. Merrell, 24, whose last known address was in the 1500 block of Collinsville avenue, Madison, pleaded guilty Tuesday to the $5632 robbery of the Cerro Gordo, Ill., State Bank March 1. Federal Judge William G. Juergens received the plea in East St. Louis and ordered a pre-sentence investigation of the case.

Arrested March 18 in Blytheville, Ark., when he attempted to pawn a diamond ring, Merrell was named in a federal robbery warrant the following day. He is a former St. Louisan and may have been living in Arkansas, it was learned. He resided here in the 1950s and was released Jan. 7 from Menard state prison after serving a three-year term for burglary and larceny.

An alleged accomplice in the bank robbery, George P. McKinney, an escapee from the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison, is being sought.

HISTORIC BRICK MANSION at 715 North Main street in Edwardsville for which funds totaling $34,000 are being sought throughout the county to purchase, renovate and equip it as a Madison County Historical Museum. It is known as the Weir House, and it will replace the present overcrowded quarters the Historical Society's museum has occupied for 37 years in the county courthouse. Space there is needed for courtroom use.

First Of A Series

127-Year History Of Home Proposed As County Museum

(This is the first of a series of four historical items on the proposed new Madison County Historical Museum for which a fund-raising campaign is under way.)

No pre-cut timbers, no ready-to-install flooring or fancy glass for picture windows were available when pioneer Madison county physician John H. Weir built his home and established practice in Edwardsville in 1836. Bricks for the substantial, large home were reportedly carted from Virginia.

Yet the 15-room home of Weir, described today by architects as of typical early American design is basically in excellent condition for its age.

Little wonder that this home, second oldest brick home in Edwardsville, is being considered for a permanent historical museum for Madison county. Offered in its 15-room interior is a natural setting to recreate history as it has been lived in a four-generation family home.

Few intricate interior architectural details marked early homes of this area at a time when Madison county was very near the nation's frontier. The Weir home illustrates one of two basic home construction plans with the long center-hall from front to back, and two chimneys of parapet design at each side of the house for fireplaces to heat the rooms.

Frame Addition

Eleven of the 15 rooms are in the original brick structure. Others are in a frame addition added later at the rear of the home.

Inside, the woodwork is not lavish in detail; simple, rather, indicating a home built for a family, the millwork being done at the site. Ostentatious detail, typical to homes of the same era in the east where craftsmen, architects and cabinet makers staked their reputations on fanciness, is noticeably lacking. Many of the Weir home rooms have original wide board flooring, although in others there are hardwood overlays.

Still on the inside—looking out, window glass of the Weir home has the "waves" and imperfections of the glass of those years.

Builder of the home, John Weir, is described as a man of "resolute determination and will power" in a sketch of the frontier doctor in the U. S. biographical Dictionary (Illinois 1878). And so must he have been to walk from his Tennessee home to Boston, Mass. in only 30 days to enter Phillip's Academy in nearby Andover.

Worked Way Through College

Working his way through college by teaching winters and working a portion of each day, Weir earned his own education, and after completing a classical course there, began the study of Medicine in Dr. Kendall Davis' offices in Reading, Mass. Soon entering Harvard University Medical department, Weir completed the medical studies in 1835.

Traveling with his bride in a covered wagon to Edwardsville where he was to begin medical practice, build a home and a life of service, Dr. Weir helped to push frontiers onward. His medical work included being member and ex-president of the Madison County Medical Society, surgeon of the Board of Enrollment of the 12th Illinois District, U. S. examining surgeon for county pensioners, contributor to the Boston Medical Journal for over 30 years, and a corresponding editor of the Southern Medical Record in Atlanta, Ga.

Last occupant of the home which has remained in the Weir family throughout the years was Miss Edna Weir, granddaughter of the original Dr. Weir, and formerly a librarian of Edwardsville high school. Miss Weir now lives in a nursing home in northern Illinois, and the home was put up for sale during the summer of 1962 by heirs of the Weir family living in Rockford, Ill., St. Louis and Connecticut.

A small group of interested citizens, aware of the need for larger, permanent quarters for the museum of the county Historical Society, rallied to take the historical home off the "for sale" market.

$34,000 Campaign

If current efforts to raise $34,000 for purchase and repair of the Weir home are successful, the Society will move its present displays from an overcrowded Courthouse museum, and expand its exhibits and facilities.

Offered for the first time would be a museum where week-end visits could be possible for families throughout the county now unable to visit the museum because Courthouse closing hours make it unavailable on Saturdays or Sundays.

Individuals, organizations and the business community throughout this area are being contacted by friends of the museum during May for contributions to assure establishment of the museum. Irving Dillard, Collinsville, is chairman of the committee for the proposed museum.

HOME NOTES

MRS. ELAINE P. WENDLER, Madison County Home Adviser, Home Economics Extension, University of Illinois

AN OPEN REFRIGERATOR DOOR

Don't worry about the frozen foods thawing while Junior raids the refrigerator.

Opening the outer door of a conventional refrigerator actually lowers the temperature in the cold-storage area.

The explanation: A rise in temperature in the general-storage space activates the thermostat. And, because the evaporator coils "surrounding" the low-temperature space, the frozen food gets the immediate benefit of the lowered temperature in these coils.

Even if the door is open for periods up to 15 minutes, frozen food won't lose its quality.

However, foods in the general storage area will become warm. Unnecessary frost will accumulate. And the cost of operation will go up as the motor and machanism work to overcome the effects of warm air.

BIBLE FOOD OF THE MIDDLE EAST

Bulgur—for centuries a staple food of the Middle East—is now appearing on middle west dinner tables. Homemakers in Kansas, Missouri and Colorado are buying it—cooked and canned—under the name of Redi-Wheat. Manufacturered with processes developed by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture' Agricultural Research Service, Redi-Wheat is cooked whole grains of wheat with only the rough outer layer of bran removed.

It has a delicate whole-wheat flavor and practically the same nutritive value as whole kernals of wheat. This canned, cooked bulgar is used in much the same way as rice—in soups, stuffed peppers, stuffing for roasting chicken, and in curried lamb pilaf.

It also may be served alone as an alternate for rice or potatoes. In Wichita, Kansas, where the product was market-tested by USDA's Economic Research and Statistical Reporting Services, most homemakers used canned bulgar in meatloaf and meatballs, or as a breakfast food.

For the most part, the women were satisfied with bulgar in these dishes. Nearly three-fourths said they intended to use it regularly in the future.

Homemakers in other parts of the country, however, will have to wait a while to try the new product. Canned, cooked bulgur is not as yet being produced and marked elsewhere. Shoppers can, however, buy dry cracked wheat bulgar at specialty shops or gourmet counters.

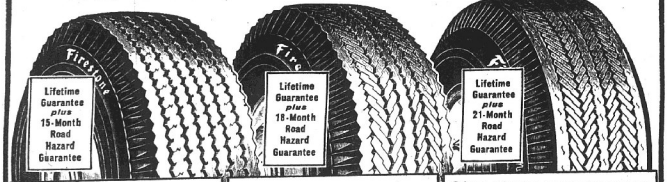

It also soon will be added to foods donated by the Department of Agriculture for distribution to needy persons in certain areas.

3,079,727 Tons In April

All-Time Tonnage Record Set At Chain Of Rocks Locks

Business is booming at the Chain of Rocks Canal Locks.

Known in U. S. Army Corps of Engineers' circles as Locks No. 27, the two locks handled an all-time monthly record tonnage during April.

The new record was 3,079,727 tons, which beat the former record of 2,839,888 tons set in July 1962.

During the month there were 771 lockages for 4318 vessels which included 768 towboats, four passenger boats, 3449 barges, 14 U. S. contractor boats, 53 private recreation boats, and the following government boats: eight towboats, nine barges, seven patrol boats and six small craft.

Of the record tonnage total, only 825 tons was government freight. The remaining 3,078,902 tons was commercial.

Breakdown Of Tonnage

A breakdown of the tonnages by products, listing the amounts headed upstream and downstream follows, with the upstream figure listed first:

Petroleum products, 448,500 and 232,050; grain, 9200 and 1,179,750; coal, 531,150 and none; cement, sand and gravel, 2400 and 7000; sulphur, 48,300 and none; miscellaneous commodities, 320,192 and 49,460; iron and steel products, 30,910 and 95,240; and chemicals, 105,350 and 19,200. Total tonnage upstream was 1,496,202, and the total shipped downstream was 1,582,700.

Tonnage going through the locks and canal for the first four months amounted to 7,880,168, compared to 7,667,652 for the same period in 1962.

City Approves Jaycees' August Homecoming

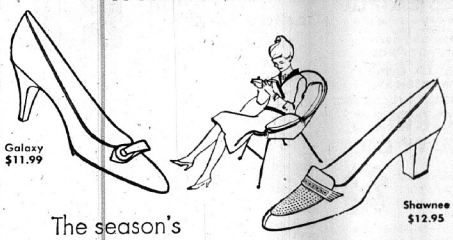

Permission was granted by Granite City council members Monday night for the Jaycees to hold a homecoming festival Aug. 8, 9, 10 and 11, with a parade and carnival rides. The parade is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 10.

The homecoming grounds are to be at the Granite City high school athletic field on a large vacant tract along Nameoki road between the Big Top drive-in and Kroger's market.

The request was submitted by Alvin Barnes III, president of the organization, who said the concessions and rides will be furnished by the same firm that will be in Granite City for the park district's annual July 4 celebration.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Advertising is news, too!

People buy this newspaper for news of the world, the country and our community in particular. Our readers are also interested in news about food, clothes, entertainment, automobiles, furniture and all of the necessities and luxuries that have to do with daily living.

Through advertising in this paper you can give our readers the up-to-date news about your merchandise and services. Each one of your advertisements can be a newspaper within a newspaper.

Of course you should know all about the circulation of the newspaper that is carrying the news of your business. How many people buy the paper? Where are they located? How was the circulation obtained? To give you this information and many other facts that you need and have a right to know when you buy advertising space, this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Established in 1914, the Bureau is a cooperative, non-profit association of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Its purpose is to furnish advertisers with verified reports on the circulation of its publisher members.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced auditors makes a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records, just as the bank examiner makes a check of your bank's records. The information thus obtained is published in official A.B.C. reports. When you buy space in this newspaper our A.B.C. report tells you just what, in circulation values, you get for your advertising investment.

Houses For Sale 1 | Houses For Sale 1

Will you be happy, years afterward, with the home you buy today?

You probably will, if you buy it through a Realtor®

When you tell a Realtor you want to buy a home, he'll begin by analyzing your needs . . . and asking you questions—some you probably never thought to ask yourself.

Then he'll show you several homes. Each will suit your present needs . . . and probable future needs. They will be within your price range . . . homes you'd be proud to own. Most important: when a Realtor describes or shows a home, you can be sure the facts will be as represented.

For a Realtor—a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and his local board—subscribes to the professional standards of an established code of ethics. As a Realtor, he may use or display this seal.

We are ready to save you time, trouble, and probably money—whether you wish to buy or sell a house or any other real estate. Call us any time.

DOWNSTATE FISHERMAN'S GUIDE

By C. A. FRAZER

It's been bluegill week at the lakes in southern Illinois and the toothsome panfish are hitting just about anything offered crickets, roaches, garden hackle, or cork-bodied flies. Bass and crappie have taken a brief holiday.

Lake Murphysboro, a State Department of Conservation lake just west of the Jackson county seat town, long noted for its redear sunfish, produced some unusual strings. Bud Rose, Jim Parker and Gene Biggs, all of Murphysboro, reported total, weeklong catches of nearly 1000 bluegill and redear, some of the latter running to three-quarters of a pound. Garden worms, fished on thread monofilament in about a foot of water, did the trick.

Most of the lakes in southern Illinois now are crystal clear. Water temperatures are approaching 70 degrees in the shallower ponds and fish are heading for the spawning beds.

Although taking a back seat to the bluegill, king largemouth bass drew the usual horde of bait and spin casters. Good strings were reported at Little Grassy Lake by those who have unravelled the mysteries of the underwater snags and stumps. A six-pounder led the parade at Lake Murphysboro, and several three pounds and up came to the dock at Devil's Kitchen.

The lake-by-lake report:

CRAB ORCHARD LAKE—Fishing is in a slump. Only a few crappie, of small size.

LAKE MURPHYSBORO—Mike Heninger of Murphysboro, a six-pound bass on a plastic worm; Bill Fenton of Murphysboro a 4½, and a 3½ on a surface lure. Bluegill and redear the top attractions, as reported earlier.

HORSESHOE LAKE—Cairo vicinity fishermen report good bluegill activity on either cricketsor roaches but crappie and striped bass are running few in numbers and small in size. Trot lines are picking up channel and blue catfish on worms. The Cairo area had an inch of rain Sunday.

DEVILS KITCHEN LAKE—Bluegills on popper bugs for the flyrod artists led the fish parade. The lake, newest in the Crab Orchard area, attracted a record number of weekend visitors from upstate towns. Bass fishermen found they had to work hard to wet the stringer and a five-pounder led the list.

LAKE HARRISBURG—Kenneth L. Davis reports bluegills on files are the top attraction in the Harrisburg area.
